COPPERDOME

Betty Jung

Dear Betty,

Time flies, doesn't it? You be sure to write to me. Our lunches were fun, weren't they. Be a good girl and take good care of your Mama!

Love,

La La.

A LIVING MEMORIAL TO OUR GOLD STARS

These, OUR BOYS, have died. They died for you and me. They died that the individual might be free: free, without fear of prejudice or want, to live his life in such manner as will contribute most to the common good.

Our gratitude for their gift must show itself in everyday living. This living must have as its purpose the building of better communities, an America of greater social justice, a world of goodwill and understanding among peoples.

That you will contribute your full share, I have deep faith because of your attitudes and responses to challenges growing out of the war, out of living together, out of teacher-pupil effort to become acquainted with the basic issues of life today.

If you live according to promise, these our boys will not have died in vain.

We, the Copperdome Staff . . . .

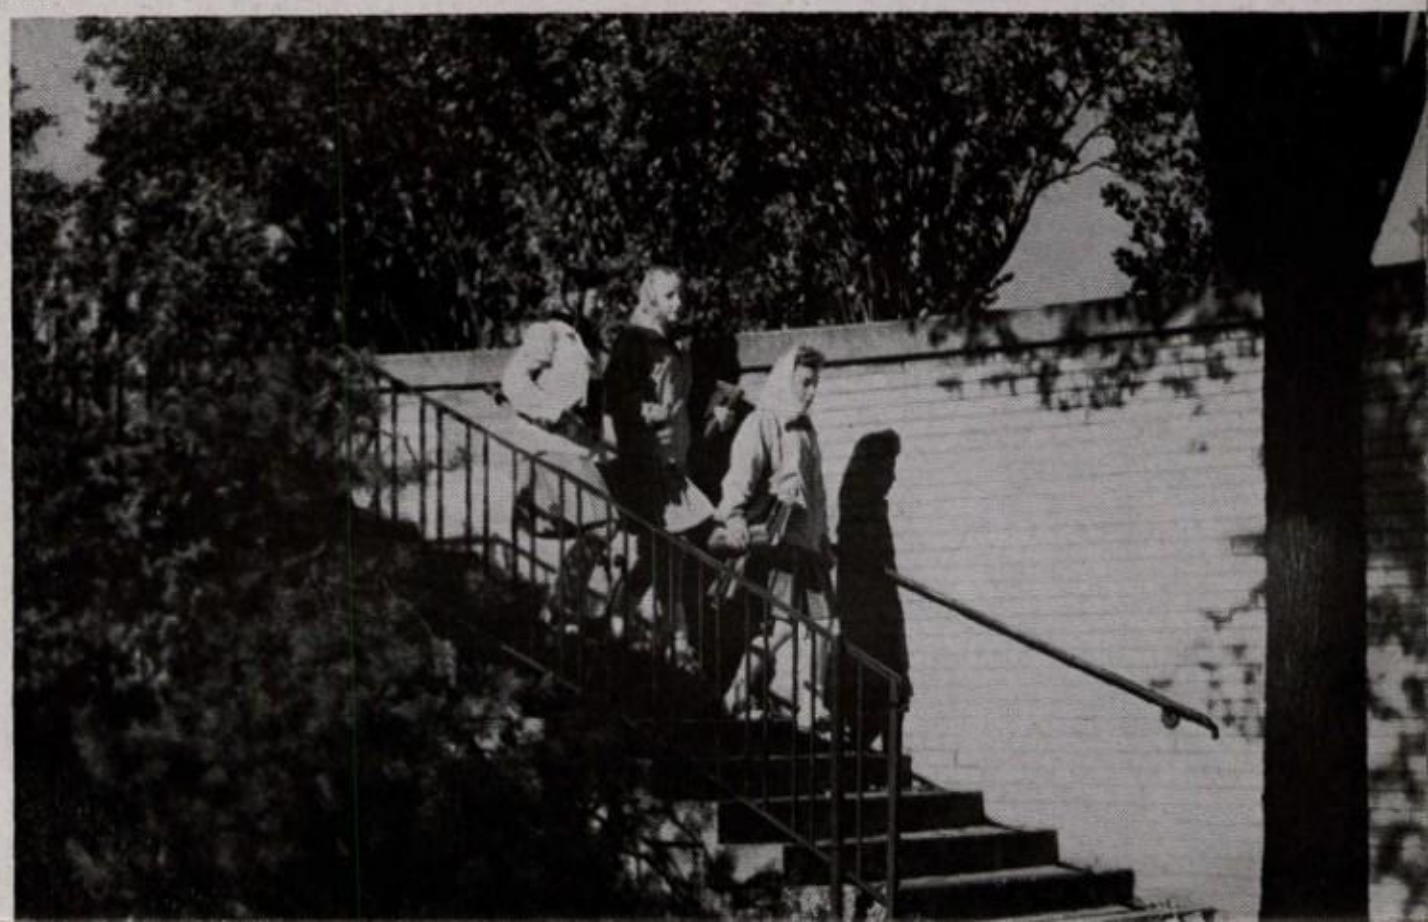
. . . . . have tried to create a book that truly interprets our school at Shorewood during our first postwar year.

Its classrooms and corridors have been the scene of hard work and heated debate, friendly chatter and hurrying feet. Shining brightly in the memory of Shorewood students, the Administration building with its sheltering Copper Dome is the hub of Shorewood life.



ese girls take advantage of a little-own exit from the Shorewood cam-s. Although quiet and secluded, rough the years Shorewood's back airs have felt the tread of many feet.

These oft-opened doors lead to the wonders of band and chorus, drama and speech, Youth Center and the cafeteria. Always a busy section of the campus, the Auditorium has been the scene of many a Shorewood commencement.

Do you recognize your friends among these students? This well-worn sidewalk connecting the Science and Administration building is bordered by an expanse of green lawn and graceful trees.

Behind the windows of the Foods Laboratory lies the promise of good things to come. Upstairs, while students ponder over algebra and geometry, prospective Einsteins delve into the mysteries of chemistry and physics. Such are the activities of the Science building.

THOMAS ALIOTA, JR.

Tommy is the little man with the dark hair whose favorite pastimes are boogie-woogie and sports. He was a three year member of both the tennis and football teams, and he also found time to be in the Student Council for two years and to join Mixed Chorus for his junior year.

MARY ALLEN Mrs. David Mahone

Entering in 1944 as a junior from Holy Angels academy, "Glamour" became a well-known and equally well-liked Shorewoodite, in spite of her interests in "that school." Mary claims that riding horses and collecting pennies are her hobbies, and she will be remembered for her friendly smile.

JOYCE ANDROY Mrs. Ray Jesmok

A girl really "in the groove" is Joyce. Dancing and collecting records rate high in her list of hobbies. Dramatic club was the center of her extra-curriculars for four years and after school, sports and Girl Reserves were benefited by her membership. Serving as a hall montitor concluded her activities.

JERRY ARMSTRONG

Having entered from Peckham junior high school as an eighth grader, Jerry was a member of the Orchestra during his freshman and sophomore years. In addition, he went out for the football squad both as a sophomore and as a junior. When a senior, he decided to sing with the Mixed Chorus.

JANIS ARNE Mrs. Robert Gold

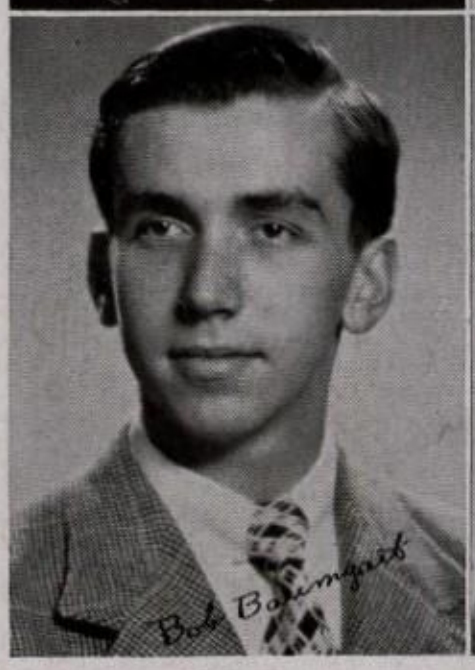
Ever since she entered our echoing halls, "Janny" has been active. Because dramatics, Girl Reserves, Block Captains, Hall Monitors, Home Economics, and Ripples have taken up much of her attention, that smiling dark-haired girl has found little time for her favorite sports.

SHIRLEY AUSTIN Mrs. Wayne Reich

This little live-wire has devoted her time to Mixed Chorus, A Cappella choir, Sports, Girl Reserves and Hospital Aides since entering as a sophomore. When "Aussie" isn't giving her all to "Shorewood studies", she can be found on the golf links, or where she can talk with other airplane enthusiasts.

ROBERT BAUMGART

Entering from Messmer high school in his junior year, "Jumbo Jr." immediately joined Dramatic club and became a hall monitor. As a senior he maintained these same extra-curriculars, besides working on cars, which is his hobby. The nickname was inherited from his older brother, "Jumbo".

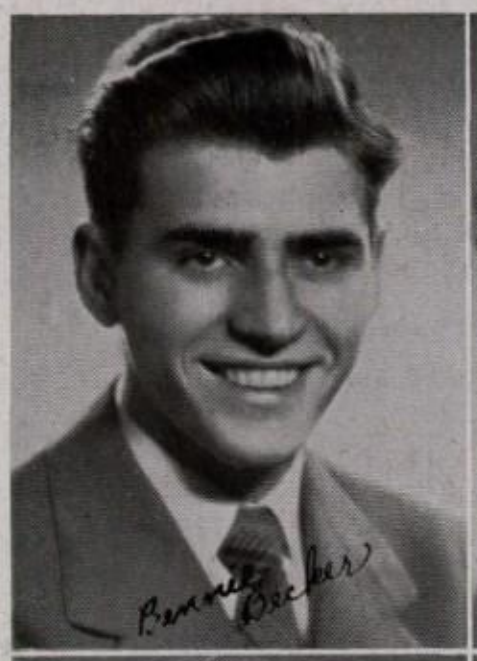


RUTH BEATTY

Evidence that Ruthie thrives on giving aid to others is seen by her participation in Home Nursing as a freshman. Three years in Girl Reserves gave her a chance for more service. As a junior and senior the Ripples business staff and Sports became another part of Ruth's life.

Seniors

SENIORS



BENJAMIN BECKER

As a sophomore at Washington high school, "Bennie" was on the football squad and also was a member of the Athena Debating Society. Coming to Shorewood in his junior year, he immediately began to get acquainted, and as a senior he joined Dramatic club. His hobbies are art and music.

JANET BECKMANN Mrs. Edward Hoffman

Usually seen with a pleasant smile, a friendly "hello", and an escort, "Becky" has been one of those busy little Shorewoodites for six years. She participated in Mixed Chorus, A Cappella choir, and Sports, and to show her patriotism she served as a block captain for a year and then as a major for two.

RUTH BEISWENGER Mrs. Joseph Laur

In her sophomore year, Ruthie came to this institute of learning from St. Roberts. At that time, she joined the Girl Reserves register for two years. As a junior, she entered the realms of the Sports club and A Cappella choir and continued with these until the time of graduation.

MILAN BLASKOVICS

Dramatics has been "Mike's" main interest ever since he came to Shorewood as an eighth grader from Steuben junior high school. Besides his four years of dramatics, "Mike" went out for football as a freshman, joined Hall Monitors and 50-50 club as a junior, and was a diver on the swimming team as a senior.

HOWARD BLEIER

As athletics was his chief interest, Howie spent four years as a member of the Crimson gridmen. He gained the coveted "S" in his senior year, calling signals at his quarterback spot. Showing an interest in student government, Howie participated in the Student Council during his sophomore year.

MARY BOERGER Mrs. Walter Marshall

Mary, always with a pleasant smile, has been attending Girl Reserve meetings faithfully for three years. She belonged to Dance club and Home Economics club as a freshman and the Ripples business staff in her junior and senior years. She also has been a member of Student Council, Choir, and Sports club.

ROGER BOERNER

Dramatics, in which he earned a Dragon, Student Council, Hi-Y, and a member of Miss Barry's Brigade are just a few of Roger's activities. While news editor of the Ripples, for which he earned a Quill and Scroll award, his quiet sense of humor often caused loud laughter in the Ripples office.

JOAN BOETTCHER Mrs. Thomas Buskuskie

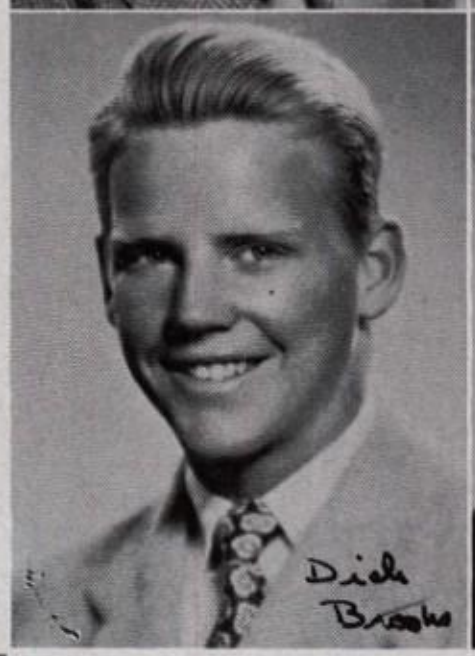
Joan is that quiet girl who entered Shorewood in 1942 from Brown Deer. She joined Dramatic club and participated in that organization for two years, along with Home Nursing during her sophomore year. When a junior Home Economics club drew her attention, but she later returned to dramatics.

EDWIN BRADLEY

Although much of his time is given to music, "Ted" has participated in many extra-curriculars. They include Stamp club, dramatics, and hockey as a freshman; a continuation of both hockey and Dramatic club as a sophomore; and Choir as a senior.

SALLY BRILL Mrs. Richard Bamberger

Sally spent her four years of high school life in dramatics, working behind the scenes with stage and business crews. She was also a member of Hall Monitors for four years. Her interest in sports is proved by the addition of Leaders club, Sports, and Life Saving club when a junior.



RICHARD BROOKS

"Squeak's" freshman activities included class president, football, and swimming. In the following years, "Jack's little brother" won letters in football, swimming, and track, was sports co-editor of the Ripples, became Choir president, and a member of National Honor Society and Quill and Scroll.

ELAINE BROVAN Mrs William Bliss ~~Mrs. Martin Rice~~

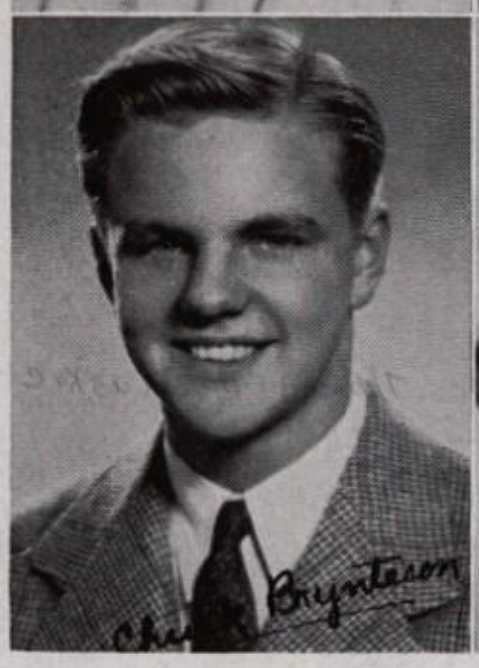
Elaine has shown her musical talent by belonging to Chorus for four years. As a freshman, she became a member of Dance club and Sports. During the next three years, she added Girl Reserves and Block Captains to her program, and when a senior, she became a hall monitor and cub counselor of Ripples.

MARJORIE BROWN Mrs. Robert Cantwell

Marge entered from Maple Dale in '42 and immediately joined Dramatic club. Her interest in music was shown by her participation in Mixed Chorus, where she was a faithful member for three years. As a senior, she added sports to her activities. Her hobby, strictly a summer one, is swimming.

DOUGLASS BRUSS

Displaying leadership in the activities in which he participated, Doug was elected senior class president. His extra-curriculars included Copperdome, Band, Preflight club, and Hi-Y. He was associate editor of the Ripples and was elected to Quill and Scroll and National Honor Society.



CHARLES BRYNTESON

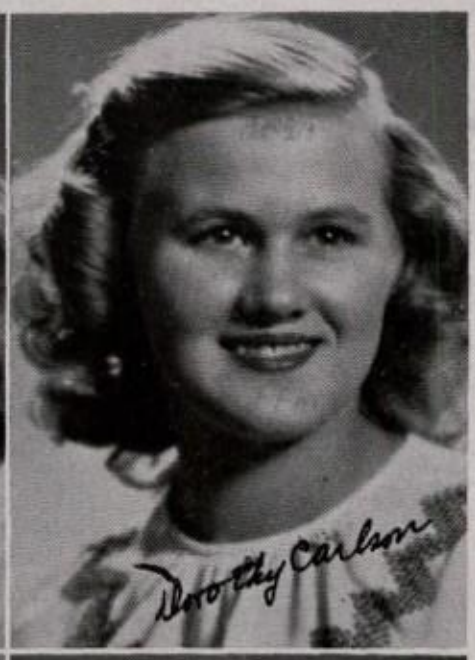
As editor of the Copperdome, co-sports editor of the Ripples, co-captain of the basketball and tennis teams, this blonde wizard has proved his leadership in many fields. Football, Orchestra, Band, Hi-Y, Student Council, and Quill and Scroll have all contributed in making Chuck an outstanding citizen.

JOYCE BURKHOLZ Mrs. Rudolph Miesbauer

The name "Berky" and versatility go hand in hand. Membership in Life Saving and Sports clubs proves her athletic interest. Other activities in which she participated are Dramatic club, Girl Reserves, and Hall Monitors. As a reporter for the Ripples, she was often found trying to get a super story.

NANCY BUTT Seitz

Charm and personality have put Nancy on top. For three years she was a member of Band and Orchestra and has served the school as a Girl Reserve since a sophomore. Choir and Ripples were her senior activities and when a junior Nan took the first step towards nursing by joining the Hospital Aides.



DOROTHY CARLSON

Dot came to Shorewood as a junior in the fall of '44 from Couderay, Wisconsin. As she enjoys embroidering and sewing, Dorothy joined Home Economics and was active in that club for two years. Sports club claimed the rest of her extra-curricular time during her junior and senior years.

RHODA COHEN

The various activities of Block Captains have kept little Rhoda's free time well-occupied for four years. She also was active in Sports while a freshman and Dramatic club as a sophomore. "Kitten on the keys" is a good name for Rhoda, for playing the piano is her specialty.

ELAINE COLLEN Mrs. John Rader

Elaine was originally a member of the class ahead of us, but because of illness she joined our class. Chorus was Elaine's only activity here at school. A look at her hobbies will show, however, that she is a versatile gal, for they include dancing, sewing, swimming, football, and listening to popular records.

BARBARA DAVIDOFF

Sports, Leaders club, and dramatics seem to hold first place in "Davie's" heart, for she has been active in these since she entered as a freshman. She joined Girl Reserves, Life Saving, and Hall Monitors to fill out her program. National Honor society admitted her as a member in her senior year.

DONALD DIAMOND

While swimming, Choir, and Block Captains took up three years of Don's attention, he also found time to try out for dramatics in his freshman year and to be a hall monitor when a senior. Don's keen sense of humor and his powerful lungs qualified him as a cheer leader for several years.

BENJAMIN DIAZ

Forced to leave his native Spain, Benny came to the United States via France three years ago. After staying at Shorewood as a sophomore, where he made many friends, he went to M.U.S. for his junior year. However, Benny came back to Shorewood for his last year of high school.

LORRAINE DIENBERG Mrs. Len Pallen

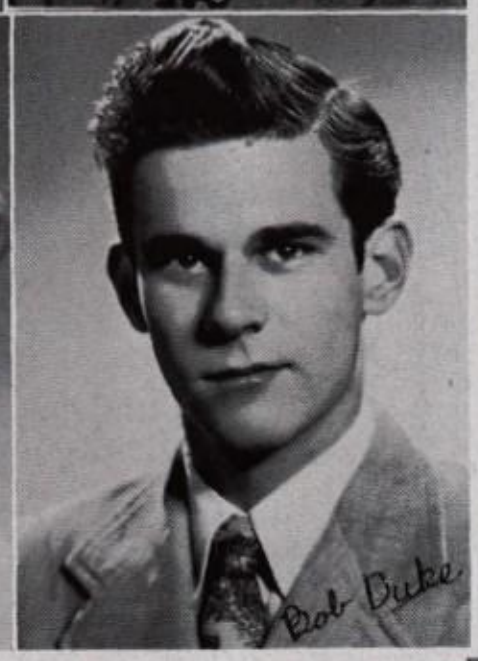
"Dinky", as she is called by her many friends both in school and out, came under the Red and Grey banner as a freshman in '42. She has been known as a loyal member of our Butler colony ever since she graduated from the Butler grade school in the spring of 1942.

ROBERT DIETZ

Lutheran high school lost a swell and likable fellow when Bob came to the Red and Grey in his junior year. He immediately joined Band and as a senior, he added Mixed Chorus to his musical activities. When he became a senior, Bob was elected Chief Musician of the Band by his fellow officers.

CHARLES DORWARD

Chuck, friendly personality plus, has been with us since seventh grade. He's rated "solid" by his classmates and when a "froshie," he was elected to Student Council. His main interests outside of school are card games and delivering flowers; while in school, basketball, track, and dramatics occupy his time.



SUSAN DOYLE Mrs. Ward Evenson

Sue must have liked this campus, for after departing from Shorewood in '43 to Downer Seminary, she reappeared in her senior year. Old friends became new once again, and she quickly joined the Dramatic and Life Saving clubs, both of which she had been active in during her freshman year.

ROBERT DUKE

Four years as a member of Band and three years as the left defense on the hockey team have been Bob's contributions to Shorewood life since he entered from Lake Bluff in 1940. His hobbies are flying and mechanics, and most of his spare time is taken up by these interests.

MARGARET EARLE Mrs. A. Suhm

Whoosh! There goes Maggie, talking a mile a minute. Effervescent is her middle name, as her coworkers in dramatics, sports, Ripples, and Copperdome will agree. Maggie acquired the Dragon and National Honor pins in her junior year, and she spent the rest of her spare time waiting for the Fox Point streetcar.

BARBARA EASTON Mrs. Eugene Nowak

Barb is one of those students of long standing in the school, having been here ever since she entered from Atwater. In tenth grade she enrolled as a member of Dramatic club and has been a faithful worker ever since. When not occupied with the stage, she pursues her hobby of drawing.

BETTY EGGERS

Fond du Lac lost a real student when Betty joined the rank and file of the Red and Grey. She gained a place for herself here by joining Girl's Sports and the 50-50 club. In her senior year Betty could be seen spending her spare moments checking and stamping books in the library.

LAURENCE EISEMAN

Sports, including swimming, golf, and football are Laurie's main interests. His other activities included Band for four years, Orchestra for three, and Hi-Y ever since he joined as a sophomore. Besides being editor of Ripples as a senior, Laurie was elected to both Quill and Scroll and National Honor during his junior year.

SENIORS

CRAIG EMERSON

Craig's interest in music has been shown by his four year participation in Mixed Chorus. When he was a sophomore, he joined the Biological Garden club and became a member of Hi-Y. As a senior he was a feature writer on the Ripples staff and earned a Quill and Scroll award.

GAIL ENSLOW

Gail was active in Dramatic club and Home Economics club and was a cub reporter as a freshman. The next year she left us to go to East, but she returned to Shorewood for her senior year. Upon her return she joined the Girl Reserves and Hall Monitors and became a reporter for the Ripples.

BYRON ERCK

Since entering the portals of Shorewood as a freshman from Garden Homes, Byron has pursued his chief interest, football. He participated in this sport during his junior and senior years. In addition to football, Byron's out-of-school activities center around other athletics such as golf and baseball.

SHIRLEY ERNISSE

Shirley came to Shorewood from Peckham junior high as a freshman. Her interest in music was shown by her participation in Mixed Chorus for one year and Choir for two. She was a three year member of Girl Reserves, singing in their newly organized choir when a senior. Her hobbies are dancing and swimming.

ROBERT FAIRMAN

A flash! A click! And "Doc", best known camera fiend, has another roll for the dark room. "Doc" says that all he had time for besides Camera club, where his efforts earned a Quill and Scroll award, was Hi-Y for three years, social chairman, block major, and Student Council.

JOAN FAIRWEATHER Mrs. Henry TALL

Joanie used her freshman year in which to become acquainted and then during the next two years Dramatic club, with a sprinkling of Social Chairman work, kept her active in and around school. Home Economics club, Hall Monitors, and National Honor Society replaced her other interests when she became a senior.

JOHN FINK

John is as much at home among musicians as with planes. He played in the Band for four years, was a member of the Orchestra as a sophomore, and Mixed Chorus when a senior. He joined the Stamp club when a freshman and Hall Monitors and Hi-Y as a senior. Out of school aviation keeps him flying.

PATRICIA FLAHERTY Mrs. Richard Roberts

Mixed Chorus has been Pat's greatest interest, for singing is her hobby as well as her vocation. She was a member of girls Sports for three years; and when she was a junior, she joined Girl Reserves of which she became a cabinet member the following year. Ripples claimed much of her time as a senior.

WILLIAM FRANK

Bill, whose hobbies are music and swimming, has shown his interest in them by being a mainstay in Mixed Chorus and the swimming team for four years. Besides having held the post of freshman class president, Bill has also been active in Hall Monitors, Hi-Y, Student Council, and Block Captains.

ARDEN FREDMAN Mrs. Marvin Miller

A quiet but industrious member of the senior class is Arden. Her war duties included four years as a block captain, and her extra-curricular interest was the Dramatic club of which she was a four year member. She is always on the lookout for popular records, for she collects them enthusiastically.

BLAISE GAGLIANO

Quiet, reserved, pleasant, and a ready smile might somewhat describe Bess. Upon coming to Shorewood from St. Roberts, she got right into things, Girl Reserves, Biology and Dramatic clubs. Band, Orchestra, and Hall Monitors were benefited by her loyal participation. Bessie enjoys playing piano and various sports.

JOAN GEFKE Mrs. Bradley

This small vivacious girl entered Shorewood from St. John's Cathedral school in the middle of her junior year. Before Joan came to Shorewood she took part in debating groups; and while here, she participated in dramatics. Knitting, riding, and playing bridge were outside activities that kept her busy most of the time.

JOAN GESSER Mrs. Richard O'connor

Since Joan's sophomore year, Block Captains has claimed her attention; while Copperdome shared her time when a junior. Girl Reserves was added in her senior year along with a number of promotions: from block captain to major; from annual staff member to Senior editor; and the Quill and Scroll award.

LOIS GIRARD Mrs. William Kohlmetz

Lois spends most of her time playing the piano and reading. Entering from St. Roberts as a freshman, she immediately became active in Dramatic club where she remained for four years. Patrolling the halls since a sophomore and participating in Girl Reserves in both her junior and senior years completed her program.

ROBERT GOLDSTEIN

When the well-focused spots dim on the stage, one can be sure Bob is at the controls. He has received the Dragon award for his outstanding work on stage crew for the past four years. In addition to dramatics, Bob tooted his horn in Band during his first three years at Shorewood.

THEA GOLDSTEIN Mrs. Stanley Greenberg

Curly black hair and flashing black eyes identify this ambitious upperclassman. Thea was a member of the backstage crews for Dramatic club productions for the first three years of her high school life. Girls Sports club activities replaced those of dramatics when Thea entered her senior year.

JULIE GOODMAN Mrs. J. Schulman

Julie has piled up a good share of her extra-curricular points by being a member of Orchestra for three years. When "Toots" was a junior, she decided that she was not satisfied with one activity and joined Choir. Last fall found her joining Sports and Girl Reserves and "covering her beat" for Ripples.

SARA GOODMAN MRS. Ross Reed

Sari's transfer from the "Bay" to Shorewood didn't interrupt her work in Dramatic club. Two years' outstanding work in this organization brought her the coveted Dragon award. That Sari is versatile as well as ambitious is indicated by her two years' membership in Sports and Girl Reserves.

ROBERT GOTTSCHALK

Bob's interest in sports began as a sophomore when he joined the track team. Last year he won his letter in high hurdles, and he was a member of the football squad when a junior and senior. Bob also participated in Hi-Y since his sophomore year. His hobbies include hunting and fishing.

BETTY GRANOF Mrs. Harry Waxman

That smile and charming disposition of "Granny's" won her the job of Social Chairman in her freshman year. In the line of extra-curriculars she concentrated on dramatics with emphasis on make-up crew. Her knitting is the envy of all the gals, and her piano playing "sends" the fellows.

ROBERT GREAVES

Coming to Shorewood as a freshman from Whitefish Bay, Bob lost no time in establishing himself as one of the "great actors" of the Dramatic club, where he also helped out as a stage crewman. Besides swimming and golfing, Bob likes archery, hunting, and to take and develop his own pictures.

SALLY GRIEBEL Mrs. Arnold Hathaway

It's dramatics, dramatics, and more dramatics for Sal. Everything about the stage fascinates this small bundle of energy. Since dramatics, with the exception of one year of Girl Reserves, is her "one and only", it is easy to see where Sally's interest has centered during her four years in senior high.

MARVIN GROH

"Spider's" hobby is fixing cars of all kinds and shapes. This kept him well-occupied through his freshman and sophomore years; but by the time he was a junior, he joined dramatics and went out for football. As a senior he changed over to the white and black robes of Choir.

JEAN HALE Mrs. Gerald Parsons

Jean showed her interest in music by her participation in Mixed Chorus and in the A Cappella choir. Sports club has held her attention, and she gave much of her time to Block Captains. Her quiet smile was seen for three years in Girl Reserves, and when a senior she acted as a Big Sister.

EILEEN HAMERNIK Mrs. James Bowlus

"Ham", that cute little blonde with a friendly "Hi" for everyone, entered the halls of Shorewood as a freshman from Des Moines, Iowa. Showing her interest in music, she became active in Mixed Chorus for four years. Even though sports is her hobby, she was in Sports club ony one year.

ALVIN HANKIN

When you hear a loud laugh and see a round, smiling face, you can be sure it's Al romping through the halls. Entering Shorewood in his sophomore year from North Division, he became famous for his wit and sense of humor. He has participated in dramatics, football, Choir, Ripples, and Student Council.

LOIS HASSEL Mrs. Raymond Hildebrandt

"Dimples", while on the freshman baseball team, stepped up to bat for dramatics. She got to third base on the junior team by joining Sports and Leaders clubs and made home plate by continuing them on the senior team. Another of her hobbies, besides baseball, of course, is going to the movies.

MARIAN HAYES

Marian invaded the campus of the Red and Grey from Appleton in the autumn of 1944. While at Appleton, "Red's" only extra-curricular was Sports. In her senior year at Shorewood, she made dramatics her lone activity. Her hobby of travel occupies her out-of-school time.

DONA HEATH Mrs. Wm. Bigelow

"All the world's a stage" according to William Shakespeare and Dona. This outstanding Dragon won a name for herself by her four years of dramatic work as an actress and artist. Between rehearsals of many productions, she has found time for Life Saving and serving as a block captain for three years.

SHIRLEY HEINIG Kurth

"Lee" entered Shorewood in 1940 from the Keefe Avenue school. Her hobby being creative dancing, she joined Dance club as a freshman and the following year became secretary of that organization. During her four high school years she has been active in Mixed Chorus, taking part in the ensembles in the annual concerts.

JOAN HEITZ

When Joan entered Shorewood as a freshman, she soon made a multitude of friends who will never forget her winning ways. It was while a junior that Joan donned the robes of Mixed Chorus. Copperdome also claimed her attention, and as a senior she was underclass editor and was elected to National Honor Society.

GERALD HENKE

Hailing from Messmer, Jerry came to Shorewood in 1944 as a junior. He quickly got into the spirit of things by joining the Dramatic club, and in his senior year Jerry added Hall Monitors and football as his extra activities. Out of school, Jerry can usually be found tinkering with his auto.

JANE HIBBARD Mrs. Kenneth Treer

"A fan," "effervescing personality," "in the groove," and "queen jitterbug" are expressions typical of Janie. She sang her way through school wearing the Red and Grey Mixed Chorus robe for three years, but changed to Choir when she was a senior. Janie claims her hobbies are singing, fishing, and dancing.

EVA HIRSCH

"Little Eva" entered Shorewood from Brevard, North Carolina, in 1940. She has been in Dramatic club, Sports, and Block Captains since her freshman year. She participated in Life Saving for one year and as a junior, was a Hospital Aide. When a senior, she became a Girl Reserve and served as a Hall Monitor.

EDWARD HOFFMAN

Captain Hoffman has made another goal—he has graduated!!! Plus his four years on the hockey field, he skated through dramatics in his sophomore year, Building and Grounds in his junior year, and Choir in his senior year. Not being restricted to watching pucks, he also announced for the football games.

RUTH HOLGATE Mrs. R. O'Brien

Ruthie is that likeable blond who is known to all as a leader. Dramatic work appeals to her for she has been in the club for three years. Life Saving, Block Captains, Choir and Student Council have rounded out her program. Ruth's main interest out of school is making clothes.

LENORE HOOLEY Mrs. Kenneth Diem

"Lesser" was active in Leaders club and Sports while Dramatic club and Social Chairmen rounded out her freshman year. When a sophomore she added Girl Reserves and Block Captains and was elected to the Student Council the following year. Life Saving, Ripples business, and Quill and Scroll completed her program.

BETTY ANN HOUSTON

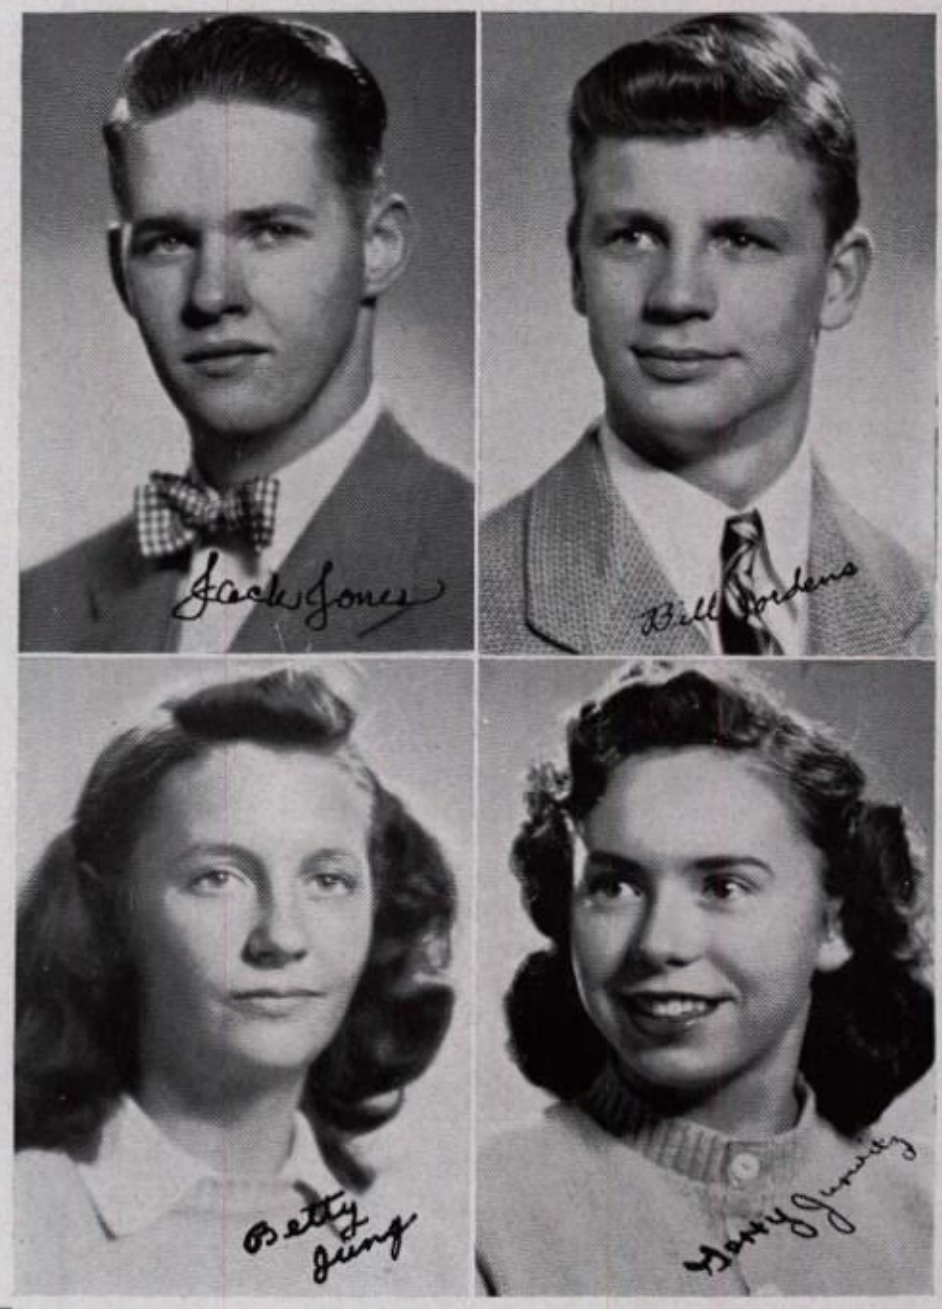
When "Shortie" entered from Craig school she joined Dramatic club, but her interest in music led her to change to Mixed Chorus. Here she took an active part, playing the lead in "The Forest Prince" as a junior. Her out-of-school activities turned to model airplane building and more music.

GEORGE HUBINGER

Entering in 1940 from Lake Bluff, George steered clear of all extra-curriculars at Shorewood. Most of "Doc's" spare time was taken up by hunting and fishing. George also has an interest in mechanics, as anyone who has seen him taking the "works" out of his car and putting them back will testify.

WILLIAM HUEGEL

Bill, alias "Huegel, the Beagle," entered Shorewood in September 1942 from the Green Tree school. He joined stage crew and Dramatic club in his freshman year, but his main interests were outside of school as he enjoys tinkering around with automobiles, and springs, and as he put it, especially Ford V-8's.



JACK JONES

Give "Jackson" a nice big lake with a fishing rod and a speedboat and he's content throughout the summer months. He participated in Band for four years and was one of Sandy's most able clarinetists. To round out his activities he spent one year in Camera club and one on the golf team.

WILLIAM JORDENS

Crossing the tracks from Riverside into the land of its traditional Eastside rival, Bill settled down to his changed program during April of his junior year. While Bill was at East, he was a member of the orchestra for three years. His hobby is sports but mainly from the spectators viewpoint.

BETTY ANN JUNG

"Speedy" entered Shorewood high as a freshman from the Maple Dale school in the fall of 1942. She joined the Dramatic club when she was a freshman, but her hobby of horses must have kept her busy for the past three years, for she joined no extra-curricular activities during that time.

GERALDINE JURWITZ Mrs. Eugene Weigel

"Gerry" came to Shorewood from Carleton grade school in 1942. During her freshman year she joined Hall Monitors, but dropped that activity for the next two years. While a freshman and sophomore she was a member of Mixed Chorus. In addition to music she also claims chemistry as a hobby.

JOANNE KAHN

Joanie's big black eyes have always been admired. She focused them on Dramatic club for four years, but also looked the way of the Hospital Aides as a junior. As a senior she peeked into the Ripples office and became a reporter. She thoroughly enjoys keeping a watch on her favorite horse when riding.

DOLORES KALBAS

Quite a smattering of extra-curriculars have taken up Dolores's spare time since she joined the throng at Shorewood. As a sophomore dramatics and Girl Reserves were her interests, and when a junior she enrolled in the Senior Home Economics club. Her senior year found her in dramatics again.

JOAN KAYE

Joanie made her entrance in '42, cueing in with dramatics and Block Captains. She continued in the second and following acts with dramatics, but Hall Monitors and Ripples stole the show from Block Captains in the third and fourth. As the curtains closes, we see Joan receiving her Dragon and National Honor pins.

CAROL KETTER Mrs. Wm. ~~Lottemann~~ Avelallemann

"Casey's" interests have varied, as her participation in Dramatic club and Homes Economics club shows. Hall Monitors for two years and Sports club for three completed her extra-curricular program. Her chief pride and joy, as well as Phyl's, is her collection of dolls from foreign countries.

PHYLLIS KETTER Mrs. Robert Tabbert

Phyl's interests have varied as her participation in Dramatic club, Mixed Chorus, Biology club, and Ripples shows. Hall Monitors, Sports club, National Honor, and Quill and Scroll completed her extra-curricular program. Her chief pride and joy is her collection of dolls from foreign countries.

SHIRLEY KIEHNAU

Shirl', the snapshot fan, was glued to dramatics for three years. She answered in the affirmative, not the negative, for Home Nursing in her sophomore year, and ended in a photo-finish with Senior Home Economics club in her junior year. In between pages, she continued her hobby of keeping photo albums.

DOROTHY KIRSCH Mrs. Seymour Brechner

Dramatic club has been "D. J.'s" key extra-curricular as her four active years as a member show. She participated in Dance club in her junior year, but as a senior changed to Sports and Girl Reserves. If she finds any spare time it is spent singing and dancing to her favorite tunes.

MARGARET KLUG Mrs. C.W. Gillett

Peggy spent only her senior year with us at Shorewood, but previous to that, Riverside high studies and organizations held her interest. Their Camaraderie club and Girl Reserves were her main extra-curriculars. However, because of her short time here, Peggy did not join any of our activities.

DAVID KNICKEL

Dave, president of Mixed Chorus, showed his interest in music by his participation for four years. He was a member of Biology club for two years, and when a junior, was elected to Quill and Scroll and was business manager of the Ripples. Hi-Y, Hall Monitors, Choir and Student Council were his senior activities.

CARL KOCH

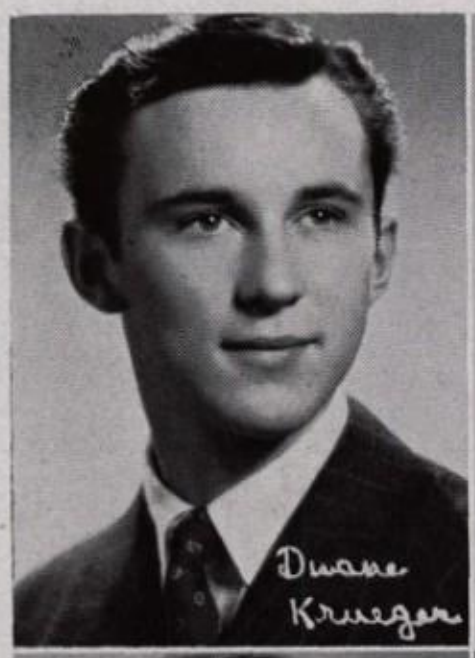
If you can't find Carl any nice week-end, he is probably out in the fields or marshes hunting, or at some quiet stream fishing. In school Carl joined Dramatic club and participated in Student Council as a freshman, and also took part in Hi-Y and German club for two years.

JANE KOENIG

This "all-around" gal has shown her loyalty to Mixed Chorus, Block Captains, and Sports. She was active on the Ripples business staff and also in Girl Reserves, where she became vice president. In consecutive years she was elected secretary of Life Saving and Leaders club and a member of Quill and Scroll.

KAY KOSCHNITZKE Mrs. K. Walkush

Kay is interested in music and so she has been a member of Orchestra ever since she was a freshman. When a sophomore, she worked as a block captain and as a junior, she joined Girl Reserves. During her senior year, she decided to supplement her talent as a violinist by taking up the piano.



DUANE KRUEGER

Although "Dee" is a letterman on the hockey team and has served on the football squad for three years, he still had time to join Choir as a senior and serve on Building and Grounds committee for three years. Besides this "Dee" goes all out for his hobby which is hunting.

JOAN KRUEGER

Joan is a new member of our class having come to us as a senior from Custer high school. While she was at Custer, she was most interested in sports; for she was an active member of the Sports club during her freshman and junior years. Her only activity here as a senior was Mixed Chorus.

JOYCE KURMAN Mrs. Marvin Sattler

Home Economics and dramatics were Joyce's preference of clubs when she entered as a freshman from the Normal school. She remained faithful to Dramatic club for four years, but found little time for other school activities due to her varied interests in reading, horseback riding, and collecting popular records.

JOAN LAAKE Mrs. Tom Schultz

Joan, that cute little blonde with the chameleon coiffures, was a member of dramatics in her freshman, junior, and senior years and warbled with the Chorus as a sophomore. She was a familiar figure at her monitor's post when a senior, and outside of school she pursued her hobbies of swimming and dancing.

CONSTANCE LANG Mrs. ~~Lee~~ Farmer

A familiar figure on the stage is Connie, for dramatic work is her hobby as well as her main extra-curricular activity. Along with acting, Connie's other interests center around the Life Saving club and Girl Reserves. She also proved her leadership as the head Social Chairman during her junior year.

LOUIS LARSON

Louie came from Rockford, Illinois, as a sophomore and has become a faithful Shorewoodite. He refrained from participating in any activities during his first year here, but he worked as a block captain when a junior and senior. Serving as a hall monitor during his senior year rounded out his activities at Shorewood.

DOLORES LEACH Mrs. Raymond Nogle

"Kitty's" enjoyment of all kinds of sports is shown by her membership in Sports as a junior and senior. Her favorites are horseback riding, roller-skating, and ice-skating. For four years Dolores has been a faithful member of Dramatic club, and as a senior she spent Wednesdays with the Life Saving club.

JOHN LEAN

John has been a loyal member of all of the extra-curriculars in which he has participated. Evidence of his interest in music is his four years of playing the bassoon with the Band. Three years each of Hi-Y and cross country work complete his list of outside activities.

WILLIAM LEHAN

Bill entered Shorewood twice, once as a junior and then again as a senior for he left just after coming from Messmer to live in Hollywood, California. Strictly a sport's fan, his extra-curriculars include basketball, boxing, and football with only one year of Dramatic club to break this sports monopoly.

PAUL LEE

During a busy school life Paul has made a variety of friends through numerous activities. Ever since he joined Chorus as a freshman, it has been one of his activities. Hi-Y and Block Captains interested him when he was a sophomore and in his last year, he wrote "finish" across his extra-curriculars with track.

LOIS LEER Mrs. Udo Hilbert

Although her hobby is knitting, "Lu Lu" didn't stop to wool-gather in her freshman year, but signed right up for Mixed Chorus. Changing needles, she joined Dramatic club in her sophomore year and Red Cross in her junior year. She cast off in her senior year by serving as a hall monitor.

ELAINE LEETE Mrs. Eugene Baumhueter

Elaine's friendly smile has been seen most frequently in the Orchestra, where she has played the cello for four years. Her interest in music also took her to the Madison Music Clinic. As she is interested in both sewing and knitting, Elaine was a mainstay in the Home Economics club for four years.

CLAYTON LENZ

Interested in all sports, Clayt was the well-known "threat" in football. A member of the squad for four years, he earned two letters as halfback. Besides playing in the Band for four years, he was also a well-known clarinetist and played in some of Milwaukee's most popular bands.

EVELYN LERNER Mrs. E.W. Garbor

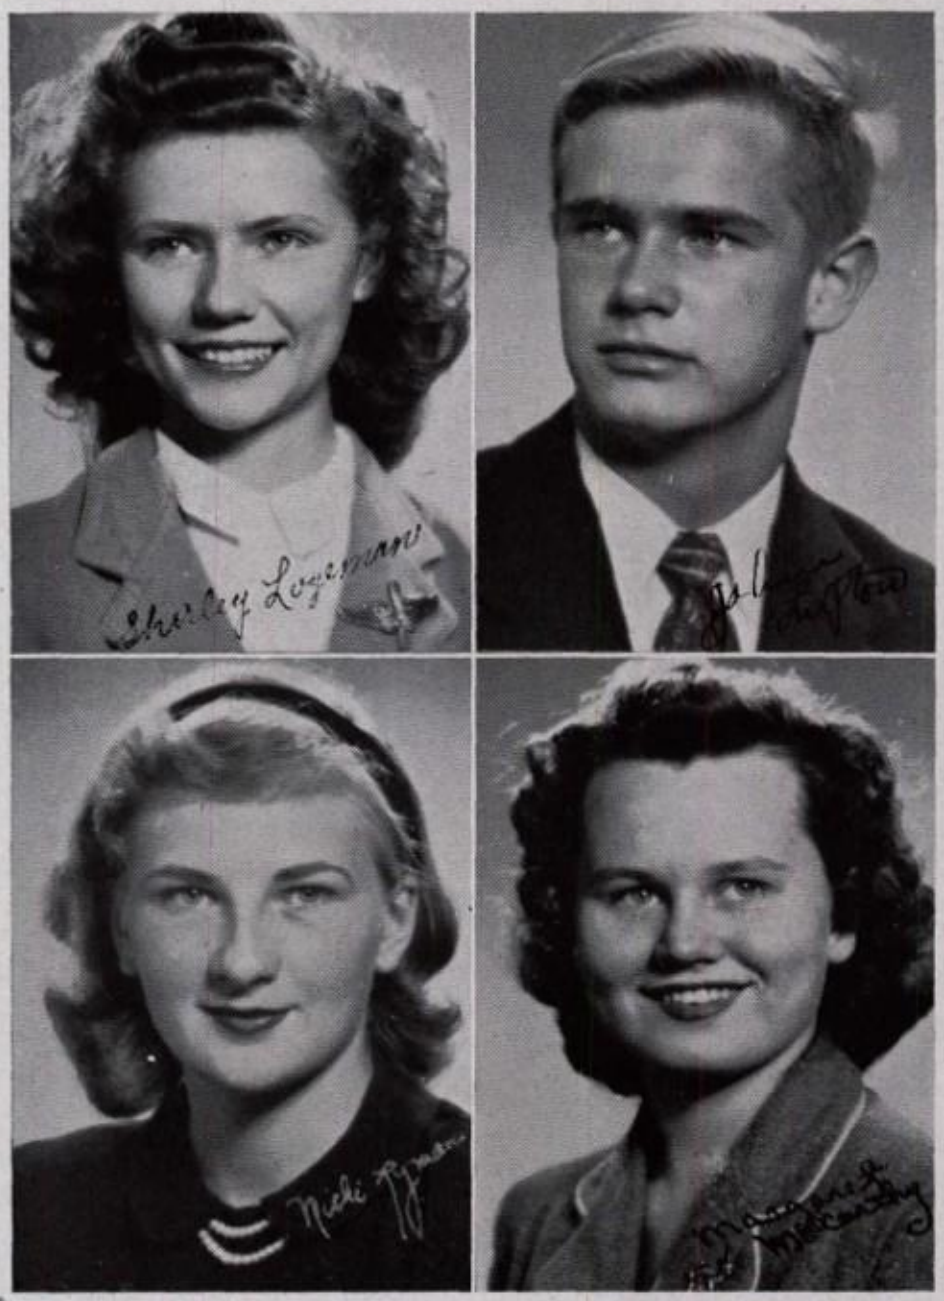
A quiet and industrious member of the senior class is Evey. By being a member of Mixed Chorus and Sports for four years, she showed where her interests were centered. Evey also chose Home Economics club in her freshman year. She doesn't have any special hobbies, but likes everything and everybody.

JACK LEUM

After entering Shorewood in '42, "Lum" immediately got into the swing of things by going out for the football team and joining the Preflight club. In his sophomore and junior years "Lum" again was a member of the football squad, but as a senior, he has devoted his time to his studies.

LOIS LEVY Mrs. Kenneth Schmidt

Bubbling over with pep and personality is "Loie." This was shown by her energetic membership in Dramatic club for four years, and her loyal service as a block captain for three years. She worked industriously on Ripples and also was active in Girl Reserves, Sports, Riding and Home Economic clubs.



SHIRLEY LOGEMAN Mrs. Richard MacKett

Shirley came as a freshman from Washington grade school. Her own interests took up so much of her time that she found little chance for school activities. She has always shown enthusiasm for music and art, but when she wants to keep on the move, Shirley enjoys a few hours of roller-skating.

JOHN LUPTON

Johnnie is that "short, blond and inquisitive" Dragon of Dramatic club who is always busy in the radio group, working as a stage hand, or rehearsing for the lead in a play. "Satchel" has also spent several summers working for the Port Players. He played with the tennis team when a freshman and sophomore.

NANCI LYMAN

"Nicki" is best known for her interest in tennis although she excells in all sports and was a member of Sports club for four years. She also had time for Dramatics, Social Chairmen, and A Cappella choir. Her interest in writing was shown by her work, as a reporter, on the Ripples Staff when a senior.

MARGARET McCARTHY Junker

"Mac," interested in athletics, joined sports, became Leaders club president, and girls' sports editor of Copperdome and Ripples. During her three years here she served as a Hall Monitor, Block Captain, and was elected treasurer of Girl Reserves and to National Honor and Quill and Scroll.

RUTH McCLOUD

Shorewood's sportswoman—that's Ruth. Since she entered from West Division high in her freshman year, she has been an active participant in the Sports club. This school activity emphasized her practice of being active in sports of all kinds, either as an ardent member of the team or of the cheering section.

DAN McDEVITT

"Mac" came to Shorewood from St. Roberts in his sophomore year, took a year to get acquainted, and then joined Dramatic club for two years. During his senior year he was a Hall Monitor. "Mac's" hobby is machine work, and he is often seen around the metal shop or the wood shop.

MARY McGUIRE Mrs. Joseph Thompson

Mary entered Shorewood high school in 1943 from St. Roberts and immediately became a member of Dramatic club. The Home Economics club and Block Captains organization took up her spare time when she was a junior, but as a senior she decided to round out her program by joining Choir.

KEN MAECHTLE

Ken entered Shorewood from the Fox Point school as a freshman. After keeping clear of extra-curriculars for a year, he joined the Mixed Chorus, and during his junior and senior years he served as a Hall Monitor. Outside of school, he is interested in mechanics, especially model railroads and automobiles.

HERBERT MAHLER

"Pinky" has been a busy boy around school for the past four years as a regular in Mixed Chorus and as an active member of Hi-Y. From his sophomore year he took part in Hall Monitors, Block Captains, and Student Council. Herb became president of Hi-Y in his senior year.

MARY ANN MAHLER Mrs. Herbert Rusinoff

In January of '45, "Marte" bade farewell to Washington and began her life at Shorewood. To continue her dramatic activities, she joined our Dramatic club as a senior and also enrolled in the Life Saving club. Another of her hobbies, besides dramatics, is collecting knick-knacks.

LIN MALETZKE

Lin, with his wavy blonde locks, came to Shorewood as a freshman from Silver Spring. For his first year he chose dramatics as his only activity. Hall Monitors and football, in which he won his letter as a senior, claimed his extra time in the remaining three years.

HELEN JO MALISZKO

Helen entered Shorewood in '44 as a junior from Bay View high school. She was interested in Science club and had been a member of that organization during her two years at Bay View. Although her two years at Shorewood have been limited to dramatics, she is interested in sports.

CAROL MANDEL Mrs. Dan Brusslan

Dramatic club has held Carol's interest ever since she was a freshman. She participated in the Dance club for one year and when a junior, worked on the Ripples business staff and joined Girl Reserves. During her senior year she was head copy reader of the Ripples editorial staff.

JACK MANDELKER

Following through with his hobby of music, Jack has spent three years in Band and one in Orchestra. He has also been a member of Hi-Y and a long distance runner on the cross country team. In his junior year he joined the Army but returned in time to graduate with his class.

EDWIN MARCUS

Entering the Greyhound campus from North Division in the latter part of his freshman year, Eddy continued his hobby of athletics. After having played football and basketball at North, Ed joined the pigskin toters here. Music became an interest in his senior year when he joined Choir.

JAMES MARKS

Since entering from Normal school, Jim's interests have varied. Band was his favorite as a freshman and sophomore, while Dramatic club came first the next two years. Model plane building occupied his spare time, but he "squeezed" Ripples, Hall Monitors, Block Captains, and Aeronatics club into his program.

GLORIA MATTER

"Glo" has been interested in Mixed Chorus ever since she was a freshman. As a sophomore she was a member of Leaders club and for the next two years she served as a block captain. When a senior, she was elected to Student Council, became a Girl Reserve, and patroled the halls as a Hall Monitor.

CAROL MAURITSON Mrs. William Olson

Throughout her days at Shorewood Carol has gained many friends. As a leader in fashion she is rated as a definite "fan" by all of them. "Mort" has been active in Hall Monitors for four years and after being a Dramatic club member since a freshman, she was awarded a dragon in her junior year.

MARTHA MENDENHALL Mrs. Howard Ibach

Martha has always been a busy person for, besides participating in sports, she was a member of Dramatic club, Girl Reserves, and Block Captains. As a junior she joined the Ripples business staff and became business manager as a senior. She was also elected to National Honor and Quill and Scroll.

D

WANDA MESSMORE

By joining dramatics when a freshmen, "Windy" showed where her interests were going to center. Biological Garden club in tenth grade, serving as a big sister when a junior, and patrolling the halls in her senior year as a monitor have kept her busy, but she has always found time for her knitting.

GENEVIEVE MILLCAREK

Messmer sent "Jennie" to us in '44 when she entered as a junior. Since then, her sparkling smile and personality have been the envy of many students. The only one of our many organizations that claimed her attention was the A Cappella choir which she joined when a senior.

ALLAN MILLER

Al spent his freshman year with our neighbors at Rufus King. He came to Shorewood high school as a sophomore, and during that year did not participate in any extra-curriculars. As a junior and senior he pursued his hobby of sports by going out for the football and basketball squads.

JOHN MILLER

Along with a full curriculum John managed to have his share of extra-curriculars. Besides serving as manager of the swimming team for four years, he was a member of the extra-curricular board while a sophomore, junior, and senior. The Dramatic club occupied his time during the past three years.

WILLIAM MOORE

His interest in photography led "Irish" to work with the Camera club for three years. As music is one of his hobbies, he played clarinet in the Band since a sophomore. If he isn't playing the piano or clarinet, he is probably puttering around with a car, another hobby of his.

ANTOINETTE MUCCI Mrs. Greg Miller

Coming from our rival school, Riverside, Toni easily made many new friends. During her two years at Riverside she had been active in Student Council and when a senior at S. H. S., she joined Girl Reserves and Dramatic club. Her interest in soccer and field hockey prompted her to join Sports club.

GEORGIA MUELLER

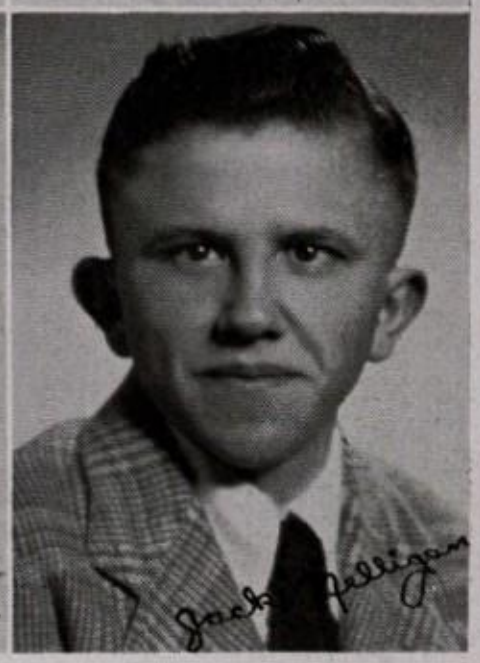
"Uncle John," as she is affectionately called by all her close friends, entered as a freshman from Green Bay Avenue school. Being a very versatile girl, she spent one year each in Chorus, Dramatic club, and Hall Monitors. Most of her out-of-school life is taken up with sewing and hunting trips.

SHARON MURPHY

This Irish colleen has been faithful to both Band and Orchestra for four years. Shure and she spent one year each in Sports, Student Council, and Hall Monitors. I'll bet my old shillelagh, too, that if you asked her, she might swing into an Irish jig, her hobby bein' dancin'.

JACK NELLIGAN

"Little Moose," as Jack is called, entered as a ninth grader from St. Roberts. Besides working on his hobby of stamp collecting, he was a member of Dramatic club during his freshman, sophomore, and junior years. Having learned enough about dramatics in these three years, he joined Choir when a senior.



DONALD NILES

"Mike" always has been "flying high" with aeronautics as his hobby. Another interest which has occupied his time has been hydroplanes. Ever since he entered from Marquette high school as a sophomore he has reserved all of his extra hours for these interests, except as a Hi-Y member as a senior.

PATRICIA NOCK Mrs. Edgar Makowski

Pat joined us from Mt. Lebanon, Pittsburgh, in her junior year. Since her hobby is sewing, she did a few stitches in her junior and senior years in Girl Reserves and served as Youth Center secretary during the past year. This helped keep her mind off other states for a while.

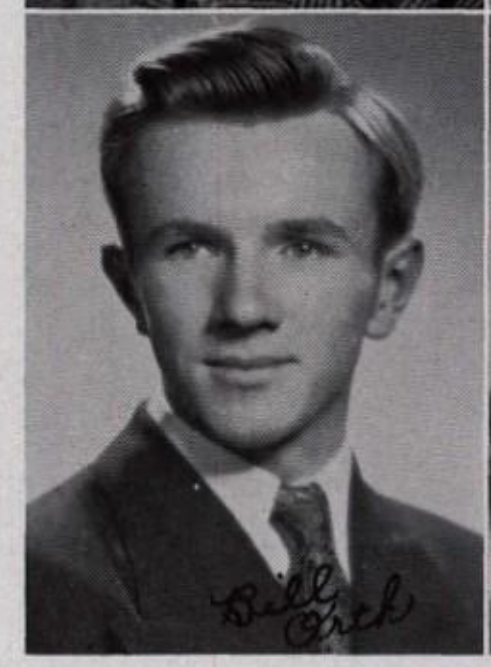
Mrs. J. Paape

JOYCE NOESKE ~~Mrs. Wm. Sinischo~~

"Blondie," entering from St. John's Lutheran school, became a member of Mixed Chorus as a freshman. Since athletics are her main interest, she was a loyal member of Sports club for four years and of Life Saving for two. To round out her program, she decided to join Dramatic club when a senior.

ROSEMARIE NOLTE Mrs. Richard Goetz

"Fritz" tripped the light fantastic through her four years of high school since she graduated from Butler grade school. She managed to dance around the extra-curricular program here, but played baseball on a team in Butler. At other times she has made the needles dance to make sweaters for herself.



RICHARD OBEREMBT

After being at the beck and call of nearly every athlete and coach in Shorewood for three years, Dick decided on the quiet life of Ripples when a senior. With the exception of one year of dramatics, all his time has been spent as the manager of the hockey, track, and basketball teams.

ROBERT OBST

As a freshman "Bobbie" tried his hand at dramatics but gave it up in favor of football in tenth grade. He took life easy in his junior year, but as a senior resumed his pigskin activities. Bob goes in for dancng in a big way and spends much of his spare time at it.

WILLIAM ORTH

Nicknamed "Shlep," Bill displayed his interest in music by singing in the Mixed Chorus for three years and in the Choir when a senior. He ranked among the best quarter-milers on the track team for three years and was a member of the football squad during his junior and senior years.

PATRICIA PAATSCH Mrs. Clifford Kanz

"Patches" came our way in her freshman year when she entered from West Division high school. During her sophomore year she concentrated on her hobby of collecting every variety of dogs, except live ones; but as a freshman, junior, and senior, she showed herself to be an able worker in Dramatic club.

FLORA PELLEGRINI Mrs. Richard Deem

Who's that dark-haired "cutie" chasing down the halls or "buzzing" around in her dad's car? That's "Fluff" of course! She skillfully avoided all extra-curriculars until her senior year when she became a member of choir. Driving, playing bridge, and collecting records keep her out-of-school hours occupied.

JOAN PHILLIPS Mrs. George Cameron

Joanie's love for music led her into four years of orchestra and later to the Madison Music Clinic. Leaders club and Sports club, both for four years, were the result of her interest in sports. She completed three years of Girl Reserves as a cabinet member and was elected to National Honor Society.

JANET PLAYER Mrs. Lin Maletzke

Hailing from Springfield, Missouri, "Danny" immediately got in the swing of things when she entered in ninth grade. She was elected to Student Council in her sophomore year and in line with her interest in music and athletics, "Danny's" extra-curriculars have centered around Mixed Chorus, Choir, Leaders club, and Sports.

KATHRYN PORTER Mrs Donald Donahew

The Orchestra has been Katie's choice of extra-curriculars for four years, and she increased her adeptness on the viola by attending the Music Clinic at Madison. Her duties as a Hospital Aide during her freshman year, and her work in a drugstore have kept her out-of-school time well filled.

BETTY PRESTIN

"B. J.", having entered the halls of Shorewood as a seventh grader, found her main interest in Sports club where she remained for three years. When she was a freshman and sophomore, Mixed Chorus was her only other activity, but Dramatic club took most of her time during the next two years.

PHYLLIS PUTNAM Mrs. Peter Kirk

With her knack for clothes, Phyl always looks as if she just stepped out of a fashion magazine. Besides making her own clothes, Phyllis cut out a full extra-curricular program for herself, including Dramatic club for four years and Life Saving and Dance clubs for one year each.

JOAN RADKE

A dependable member of the Dramatic club for four years, Joan will be especially remembered for her work on the make-up crew. She served as an efficient hall monitor and was a member of Girl Reserves for three years. As her outside interests Joan claims reading and making sports scrapbooks.

JUDITH REISINGER Mrs. Harry Jacobs

Judy came to Shorewood from Brooklyn in 1941. As a freshman she joined Sports and Dramatic clubs. She belonged to no extra-curriculars as a junior, but she managed to spend two more years in dramatics. Although you wouldn't know it to look at her, her hobbies are cooking and eating.

JANE RESENHOEFT Mrs. Arthur Lee

Because of her great interest in athletics, "Rasin" has been an active member of the Sports club for three years. Her pleasant smile was also seen in the make-up crew of Dramatic club. The Block Captains and Junior Home Economics club received their share of her extra-curricular attention, too.

JEAN REUTHER Mrs. Carlos Hade

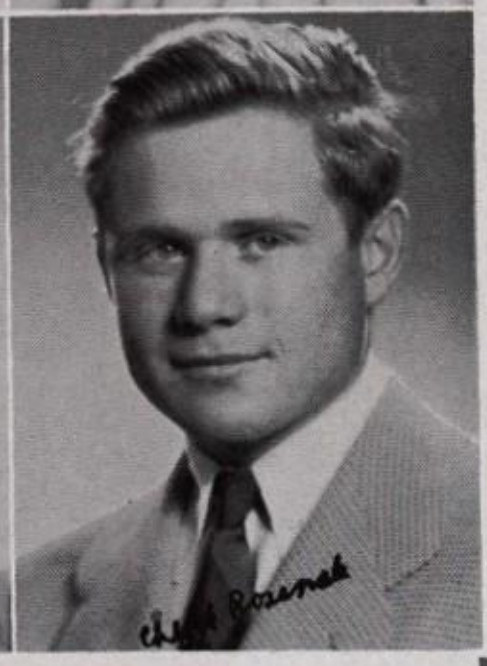
"Jeanne, with the light brown hair" and quiet charm has won many friends and is rated "tops" with all of them. Jeanne was active in Dramatic club for three years and applying the rule, "variety is the spice of life," she lent her talents to A Cappella choir in her senior year.

JAMES REIGER

Jim came to Shorewood as a sophomore from Peckham junior high school in 1943. He joined the football team that fall and in his junior year he again was a member of the squad. As a senior Jim was forced to drop extra-curriculars in order to devote more time to his after-school job.

ILSE RIEBETH Mrs. Gerhard Giebisch

Missing from our ranks in her junior year, Ilse returned from St. Clara academy to graduate with all the old friends she had made while here as a sophomore. A Cappella choir and Girl Reserves, her senior activities, were Ilse's only school interests, but perfecting her piano technique was an outside interest.



BETTY RISLEY

"Ris," vim, vigor, and vitality plus, joined Sports, dramatics, and Block Captains as a freshman. Hall Monitors, Leaders club, and Dance club were added to her schedule in the next two years. The presidency of Girl Reserves, a dramatic Dragon, and National Honor were the rewards for an active high school life.

MARILYN ROESLER Mrs. Jos Chamberland

Marilyn is that cute package of pep with the ability to do two things at once and do them well. She spent a few mornings each week for four years vocalizing in chorus and turned some of her attention to making three years as a Girl Reserve profitable for both the school and herself.

MARVIN ROESLER

Whether tackling on the gridiron, swishing a long shot on the hardcourt, or sinking a putt on the green, Marv is known all over for his genial disposition. In addition to athletics, Marv belonged to Orchestra, Social Chairmen, National Honor Society, Quill and Scroll, Copperdome, and was junior class president.

CHARLES ROSENAK

Upon entering Shorewood as a freshman, Chuck joined the Dramatic club. Along with playing the leading part in many productions, Chuck found time to write a play and numerous poems and to serve as a Social Chairman. He has been an outstanding 200 yard free styler on the swimming team for four years.

KENNETH ROSENTHAL

Ken's aptitude for business has been made evident by his participation on the financial staff for four years and on the Ripples business staff for three. He has shown his interest in sports by four years on the tennis team and was also a Social Chairman and member of Student Council.

LEE MARY RUBEN

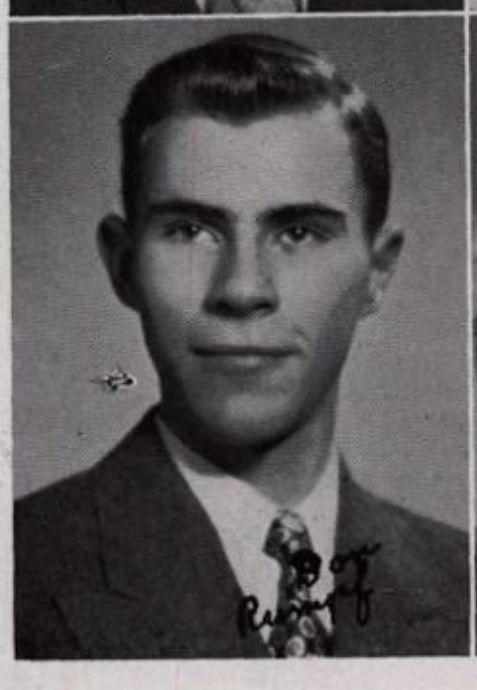
Lee transferred from Washington to Shorewood in 1944. While at Washington, she participated in Latin club, Red Cross, and was the freshman class president. At S. H. S. she took advantage of the pool and fulfilled her desire to learn new strokes. Spanish and Science clubs occupied spare moments in her senior year.

DONALD RUMPF

Extra-curriculars failed to attract Don until his sophomore year when he joined the Band. As a junior and senior he retained his membership in the Band and also went out for the swimming team. In twelfth grade cross country was added to his activities. His hobbies are fishing and swimming.

PEGGY SALOMON Mrs. David Steinberg

That gal who is always laughing is Peg. Her charming smile was enjoyed by Mixed Chorus members for one year and by Dramatic club members the other three. She served as a hall monitor when she was a senior, but most of her outside time was spent reading and listening to good music.



LORRAINE SANTACROSE Mrs. Sam Graziano

"Nicky" has supplemented her favorite hobby, singing, by joining the Mixed Chorus for four years. Her outstanding work was due to the extra time that she has given it as well as to her pleasing voice. She also has devoted much of her out-of-school time to dancing and sewing.

SHIRLEY SARAUER Mrs. Kenneth McMahon

Shirley roller-skated right into the Red and Gray school life when she entered in 1942 from her former high school at Random Lake, Wisconsin. She danced her way around school, skillfully avoiding all extra-activities all through her four years. Needless to say, her hobbies are dancing and roller-skating.

FRANCES SCHMIDT Mrs. Robert Keller

Fran's absence for a semester due to illness could not smother her smile and cheerfulness that comes from her sparkling personality. Besides being on the Ripples staff, she was an active member of Dramatic club, Girl Reserves, and Hall Monitors. National Honor also claims her as a member.

LORNA SCHMIDT Mrs. Lynn Ballard

Lorna's hobbies of swimming and skating occupied her during her freshman year. She cut the ice, however, in her sophomore year by joining girls Sports, which she continued in her next two years. She skimmed along, adding dramatics when she was a junior and Hall Monitors as a senior.

NORMAN SCHMIDT

Entering in his freshman year from the Green Tree school, Norman participated in a variety of extra-curricular activities. Science club and Social Chairman as a freshman, Student Council and football the next year, with Hall Monitors and Hi-Y as a senior, filled Norman's busy program.

WARD SCHRAM

Leaving the "Red Raiders" behind in his senior year, Ward continued at Shorewood with the activities he had participated in at 'Tosa. He made himself at home in the Dramatic club and took up in track where he left off last spring. Skiing and sports in general occupy Ward's extra time.

BARBARA SCHROEDER

You can tell that Barbie is a versatile individual by her numerous activities and hobbies which include riding, reading, and radio broadcasting. In her freshman year at Reedsburg high, she was a member of Band, dramatics, Chorus and Choir. Since she entered, she has been in Dance club and Civilian Defense.

PAULA SCHUELER

Paula entered Shorewood as a freshman from Milwaukee University school. As a freshman and sophomore she exercised her musical talents in the A Cappella choir. During eleventh grade Paula joined the Band and has been playing clarinet for the past two years. Paula's hobby is music.

MARIANNE SCHUPPENER Mrs. Thomas Becker

That the best things come in small packages seems to be true again, for although "Merdi" is not big, she's full of pep. Her winning smile made her an effective Social Chairman in her freshman year and her enthusiasm carried her through four years of dramatics and three of Girl Reserves.

LORRAINE SCHOLZ Mrs. Dale Nelson

Swimming, horse-back riding, and ice-skating are "Pete's" hobbies. During her freshman and sophomore years, she was elected to Student Council and was also a member of Dramatic club, Life Saving, and Girl Reserves. She joined Choir as a junior and remained a faithful member of Girl Reserves, too, as a senior.

NANCY SENG Mrs. Donald Spewacker

Nanc is the gal who is bubbling over with animation. She was in dramtics for one semester during her junior year, but was too carefree to continue with the activities of the club. Most of her spare time is spent in keeping her convertible and horse in condition.

BRUCE SETER

Football has been Bruce's main interest since he arrived from Fox Point as a freshman. He won his letter as a senior at the right tackle spot after playing for three years. He has also been a member of Hi-Y and Hall Monitors, and he joined Mixed Chorus as a senior.

HELENE SHAFRIN Mrs. James Sondel

"Nene" is that friendly girl who comes bouncing down the hall and always has a ready "hi." She entered Shorewood as a seventh grader from Atwater and during her freshman year she joined Home Economics club for one year, and also Dramatic club, of which she remained a member for four years.

DONALD SHEDDEN

Don offered his musical talents to Shorewood in a big way after entering from the W. H. Taft high school of Chicago. Don was a member of the Band for four years and as a senior he entered Mixed Chorus and became a member of Hi-Y. Don's hobby is music, including the collecting of records.

RICHARD SHEETS

Since "Big Dick" arrived from Marshalltown, Iowa, he has grown nearly as tall as a stalk of the stuff for which Iowa is famous. During his four years here his attentions have been centered mainly on the football team, and as a result, he has won letters in both his junior and senior years.

DOROTHY SHIMON Mrs. James Bamberger

"Dot," an old timer from Lake Bluff, spent her first two years of high school in Band and Riding club. When a freshman, she was a Junior Home Economics member, and the following year a Block Captain. In the past two years she has been very active in dramatics and popular at her monitor post.

JANICE SHORER

Jan did not start her extra-curricular record until her junior year when she joined Girl Reserves. Previous to that, her hobby of collecting records occupied most of her out-of-school time. She continued Girl Reserves in her senior year adding Hall Monitors to her list of selections.

JANE SIZER mrs. Ben GroTa

One of the busiest girls around school, Janie has participated in Student Council, Dance club, and dramatics. She was a faithful member of Girl Reserves for three years and worked on the Ripples distribution staff for the same length of time. All of her spare time is spent playing boogie woogie.

PATRICIA SLAGLE mrs. MiKKeLSon

Since entering from Spokane, Washington, as a sophomore, Pat has become a most earnest Shorewoodite. Her activities have included Home Economics club as a junior and Dramatic club as a junior and senior. During the past two years, she again became a member of Sports after taking a one year vacation.

ROBERT SLATER

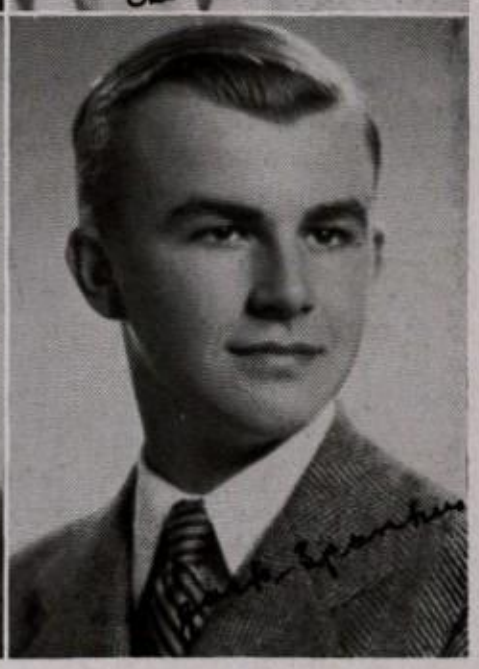
Bob has displayed his talents in various organizations during his six years here. He was a runner on the cross country team during his sophomore and senior years, while as a senior he has also found time for Hi-Y meetings and for the practices and performances of the Mixed Chorus.

DAN SLESAR

Dan entered Shorewood as a freshman from Santa Monica, that traditional rival of our Junior High in football and basketball. Living outside of the village he did not find time to enter into any of the activities offered, but he is interested in building model planes and is an ardent fisherman.

ELAINE SMAGLIK mrs. John Pandl ~~Smaglik~~

"Forty love" is a familiar phrase on the courts to "Smag" for tennis is her favorite pastime. This small, light-haired "smoothie" entered from St. Roberts in '43 and quickly joined Sports, Girl Reserves, and Choir. She has been a member of Choir for two years, and Sports and Girl Reserves for three.



DONALD SMITH

"Smitty" entered as a freshman from Green Tree school in the fall of 1941. Training dogs for hunting, one of Don's favorite hobbies, takes up most of his out-of-school time, while week-end hunting trips in the fall are always looked forward to by Smitty and his like-minded pals.

JACK SPANKUS

Blowing his cornet in Sandy Smith's Band has long been a favorite activity with Jack. Besides playing in Band, he went out for basketball as a freshman, and in his junior and senior years he was a member of the Hi-Y. Jack's sports activities outside of school include hunting and fishing.

NANCY SPENCE Mrs. Robert Gerth

Known to all by her friendly smile, Nanc has been a quiet and reserved part of our school for four years. She entered from St. Roberts in her freshman year and started right in the activities by joining dramatics and has been an active member in the club ever since.

JOAN SPEYER Mrs. Gene Ruby

Happy-go-lucky Joanie is sure to be the center of attention whether she's galloping through the woods on horseback or driving the family "buggy." She joined Band, Riding club, and Home Economics as a freshman, but then managed to avoid all activities until her senior year when she turned to dramatics.

DAVID SPRAKER

Dave has really been a busy fellow. Exercising his talent for music, Dave tooted the clarinet in Band for four years and in Orchestra for two. Besides playing basketball as a freshman, Dave was a member of Hi-Y for three years and worked as headline editor of Ripples, earning a Quill and Scroll award as a senior.

ROBERT STANFIELD

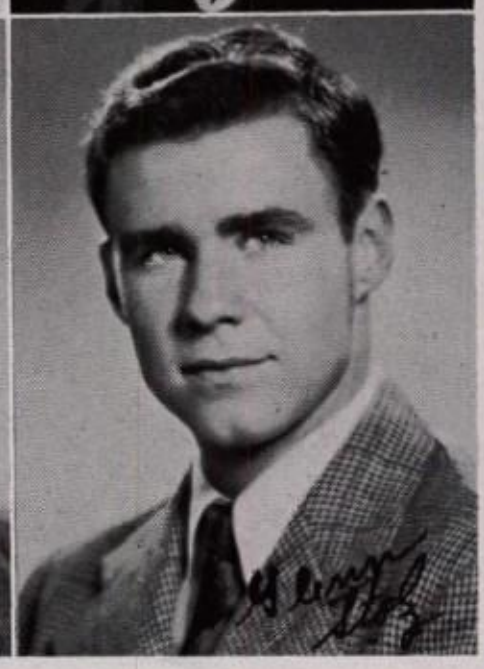
In 1942 Bob entered as a freshman from the Carleton school. Social Chairman as a sophomore and then Student Council with cross country during his senior year, were included in his activities. Although Bob works during his out-of-school hours, he does find time for his hobbies of archery, swimming, and skating.

HARRY STANZ

Coming from Fox Point as a freshman, Harry immediately joined dramatics. As a sophomore he entered Mixed Chorus, but dramatics again took his fancy as a junior. Harry has rounded out his schedule by being a hall monitor for three years and by showing considerable interest in psychiatry and nature study.

MARSHALL STAUNTON

Marsh came to Shorewood as a freshman from M.U.S. in 1942. For the next two years he found himself busy with dramatics and Hall Monitors, while as a junior he was elected to Student Council. During his senior year Marsh had plenty to do working on headlines for the Ripples.



VICTOR STEIN

"Vic" was another student of Washington high school who left to join our ranks in the fall of his senior year. Among his activities at Washington were Dramatic club, football, swimming, and Student Service. His only activity as a senior here at Shorewood was dramatics.

GLENN STOLZ

With athletics as his main interest, Glenn made a name for himself by gathering letters in football, basketball, and tennis. In addition Glenn was a member of Student Council, National Honor Society, and sports' editor of the Copperdome. He is also Student Court judge.

BARBARA STOLZOFF Mrs. Elliot Goldman Edelson

Bunny, with the bright blue eyes, has been kept "hopping." She chose Riding club for two years, dramatics and Girl Reserves for three, and Block Captains for four. As a Social Chairman and Student Council member, Bunny was tops, but she also rated in sports, Home Economics, and as Ripples alumni editor.

JACQUELINE STUESSY Mrs. Dennis Whl

Jacqueline—usually referred to as Jackie—is a quiet, cute and curly haired Shorewoodite. She entered from Steuben junior school in 1943 as a sophomore. When time comes to relax, we can find Jackie listening to music, anything from "Bach to Boogie," or swaying to any of her favorite numbers.

JOAN SWACKHAMMER Mrs. William Tillman

Coming from Maine township high in 1943, Joan lost no time in making a wide circle of friends. "Swak's" pep and personality were evident in dramatics for three years, and she also participated in Girl Reserves when a sophomore. Her hobby of drawing occupied the rest of her time at Shorewood.

JULIAN TAYLOR

Hi-Y, cross country, and track have taken up all of Julian's time at school during the past three years. He went out for the track team when he was a junior, and for cross country as a senior. In cross country he became an outstanding runner and placed high in several meets.

JAMES THALMAN

Jim became a Shorewoodite in the fall of 1942 when he entered as a freshman from Green Tree school. In that same year he was a member of Dramatic club, but since then Jim has devoted all his time to his studies and to his hobbies which include drawing and wood-working.

MARGARET VAUGHAN Mrs. John Cox

Margaret has been a loyal member of Dramatic club since her sophomore days. Although she has spent most of her time on stage in a "monkey suit," she has also worked on the business crew and the radio group. In her leisure time Margaret knit many good-looking pastel sweaters for herself.

CAROL VOEKS Mrs. Pete Messner

Carol entered from Maple Dale school in '42. During her freshman year she joined Dramatic club but didn't follow up that interest as a sophomore. Carol, in her next three years at Shorewood, devoted most of her time to her two hobbies, which are collecting records and playing baseball.

ANGELA VON NEUMANN Mrs. John Ulbrecht

Often seen with a sketch book in her hand, Angie is always looking for an interesting subject to draw. She was an active member of Dance club for two years and of Dramatic club for four years. As a junior Angie won the Dragon award and was elected to the National Honor Society.

MARY WEIMER Mrs. Robert Sprinkman

Cheerful and ever busy, "Mickey" is a familiar figure around the Shorewood high campus. She is known to all for her warm smile, friendly "hello," and her winning personality. Dramatics claimed this outstanding Dragon for four years and we have seen her as a classic lead and in several other parts.

JOAN WEINHOFF Mrs. Art Obyrne

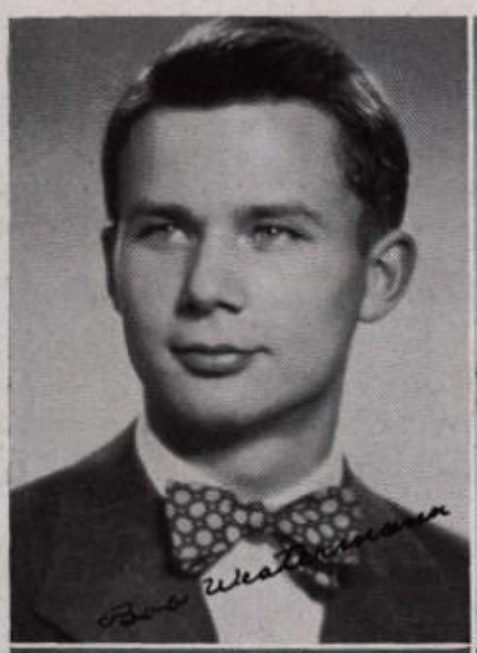
"Winnie" has been a very active member of Hall Monitors and Girl Reserves as well as a talented clarinetist in the Band for three years. As a junior she was elected to the National Honor Society, and in her senior year her interests turned to A Cappella choir and Ripples, meriting Quill and Scroll.

RUSSELL WEPFER

Russ, a well-known member of the Band for four years, enjoys hunting and fishing during his spare time. In addition to playing the french horn in the Band, he was also a member of the track team when a junior, and worked as a reporter on the Ripples staff as a senior.

MARY JANE WERNER Mrs. Fred Roberts

Mary Jane came to us from Henry Clay in 1942. Her winning personality and spick and span appearance are noticed by all. For four years she was an enthusiastic member of Dramatic club, while in her senior year she added Science club and National Honor Society to her outside activities.



ROBERT WESTERMANN

Bob has really kept himself busy since coming from Bay View in '43. His numerous activities included three years of Dramatic club, where he earned a Dragon as a junior, and Hall Monitors, Block Captains, and cheer leader for two years. Bob worked on Ripples, was home room president, and head cheer leader as a senior.

MARION WILBERT Mrs. Carter Thurk

Marion is the quiet girl who entered Shorewood from Thoreau school as a freshman. She was a faithful member of Girl Reserves for three years and her interest in music led her to join A Cappella choir as a senior. Music is also her hobby for she enjoys playing both the piano and organ.

DONNA WILLIAMS Mrs. William Smalley

As a sophomore "Willy" became a member of Girl Reserves, and when a junior, she joined Sports club; but her real interest has been music, as her four year membership in Mixed Chorus shows. In her spare time, "Willy" enjoys a good bridge game, or even sheepshead, for she is an ardent card fan.

MARGUERITE WILLIAMS

Four years of faithful participation in the Mixed Chorus show that Marge's most consistent interest has been music. She also served the school as a hall monitor for one year. Since designing is her hobby, it is not strange that she has spent two years as a member of Home Economics club.

LORRAINE WING Mrs. Earl Daniels

Lorraine, known also as "Puttser," came to Shorewood from Washington school as a freshman. "Puttser" is very adept with her knitting needles and beautiful sweaters and socks have been the result. She didn't participate in any school activities, but her interest lies in all types of sports, especially skating.

CARL WINNEMANN

"Shorty's" favorite activities have been the Orchestra, where he has played for four years and Band, of which he has been a member for three. Carl plays a good game of golf and was a member of the divot-diggers for two years. Out of school "Shorty" spends much of his time at wood-working.

LOIS WINTER Mrs. Lestar Brann Jr.

It's not unusual to find "Loie" the center of attraction at any gathering. Get her "in the mood" and those magic fingers will fly over the "ivories." Lois has participated in Dramatic and Dance clubs, Life Saving, Social Chairmen, Hall Monitors for three years, and Choir for the past two.

PATRICIA WINTER Mrs. DYKE Page

Quiet, but efficient, is Pat. She kept busy as a cabinet member of Girl Reserves, editor of curriculum on Copperdome staff and as a hall monitor. Her enthusiasm for athletics was shown by her two year participation in Life Saving and Sports clubs. She has been an active member in Mixed Chorus for three years.

MAURINE WOOD Loos

Maurine may not look it, but she's the athletic type, as her hobbies of swimming, riding, and tennis reveal. She's one of those gals who manages to look attractive even in the stage crew uniform—"the red monkey suit." Dramatics for two years and Chorus for one were Maurine's extra-curriculars at Shorewood.

CLARICE YAKEL

"Jill" came to Shorewood from Mountain Street grade school as a freshman. She joined Dramatic club that year and as a sophomore she transferred to Mixed Chorus. Her hobbies, which are bowling and ice skating, must have taken up most of her time for she has joined no extra-curriculars in the past two years.

DIANE ZIEBELL Mrs. Kenneth Lehner

Since Diane entered Shorewood from East DePere high school, she has kept busy with a variety of activities. Student Council, cub reporters, piano lessons, A Cappella choir, and Ripples staff held most of her attention, but she saved time for Life Saving club in order to develop her hobby of swimming.

SYLVIA ZIMMERMAN Mrs. Edw. Thiel

With field hockey as one of her favorite sports, Sylvia takes the ball clear down the field for frequent goals. She made a hit in Mixed Chorus as a loyal member for three years. During the past two years she scored high in participation in Hall Monitors, a service extra-curricular.

224 Grads

Shorewood's Grand Central Station - - - the front hall. Pausing only to let a frustrated teacher pass, impenetrable crowds mill in front of the office and in the corridors. Shortly after 1:13 the lights go out and all remains tranquil until 3:30, when, chaperoned by the murals, occasional couples study and chat around the tables.

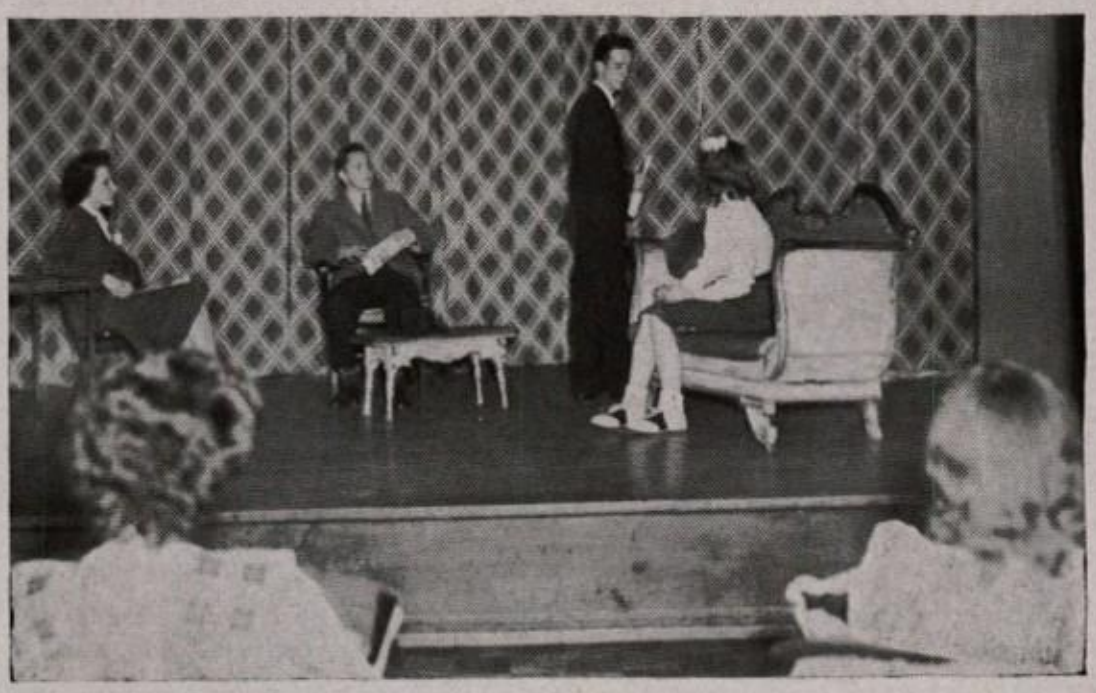
ENGLISH

To find things which will inspire us and arouse our curiousity, to discriminate between good and evil, to cultivate an appreciation for fine literature, and to help us apply our knowledge by both spoken and written word, are the aims of our English department. Headed by Miss Frieda Radke, this department tries, from the time a student enters seventh grade until his graduation, to improve the quality of his English work.



SPEECH

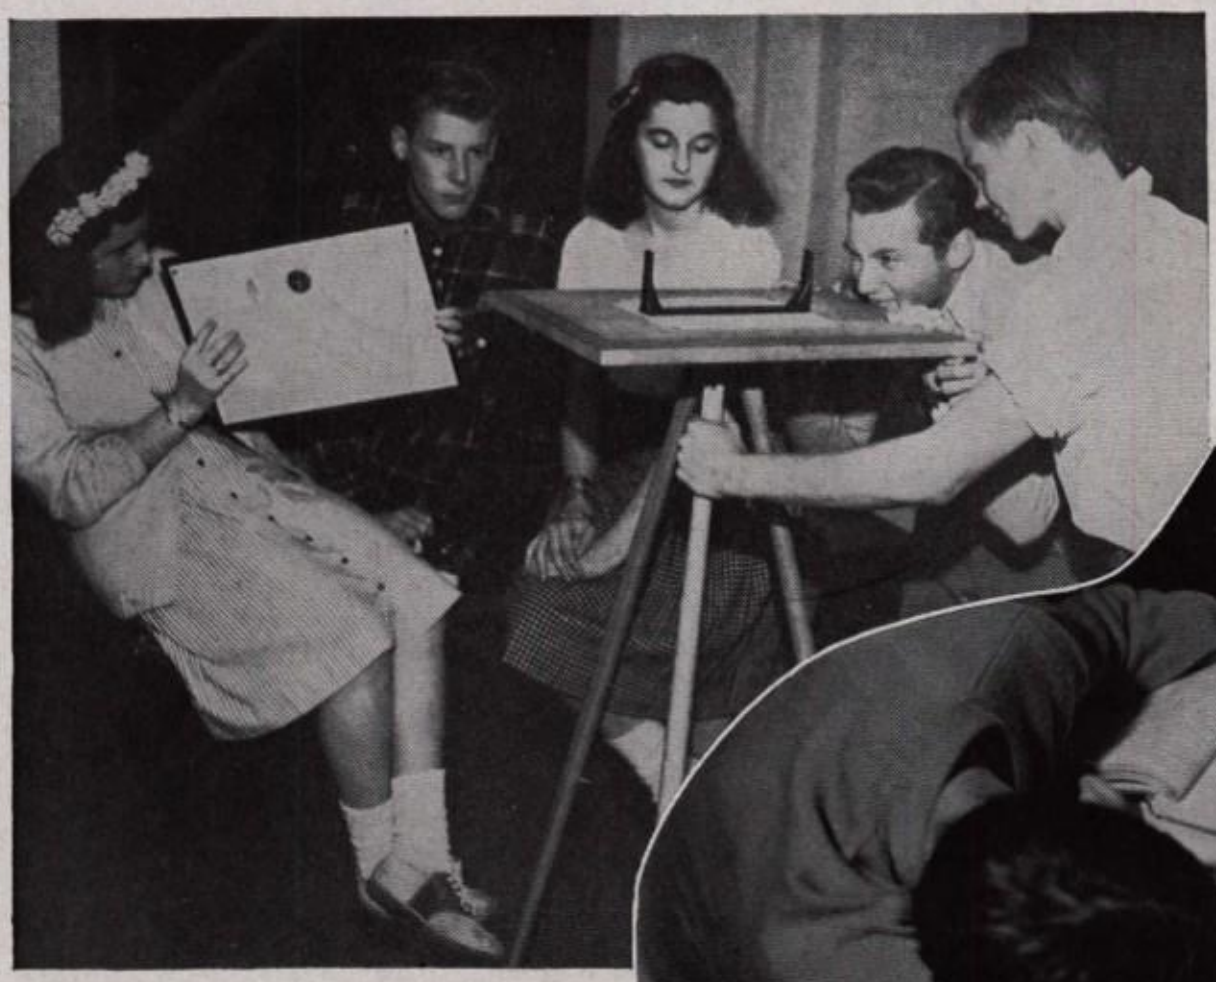
"Hoong-ol" "Oooceann-oold!" No, not a class in Chinese, but the speech class correcting faulty diction. A glance into the classroom discloses students speaking with corks in their mouths, or nodding their heads to relax throat muscles. Other group activities are the background presentation for the classic and radio plays. Writing and producing assemblies is the work of the Assembly Training and Production classes. Originality is the keynote in all three phases of speech work.

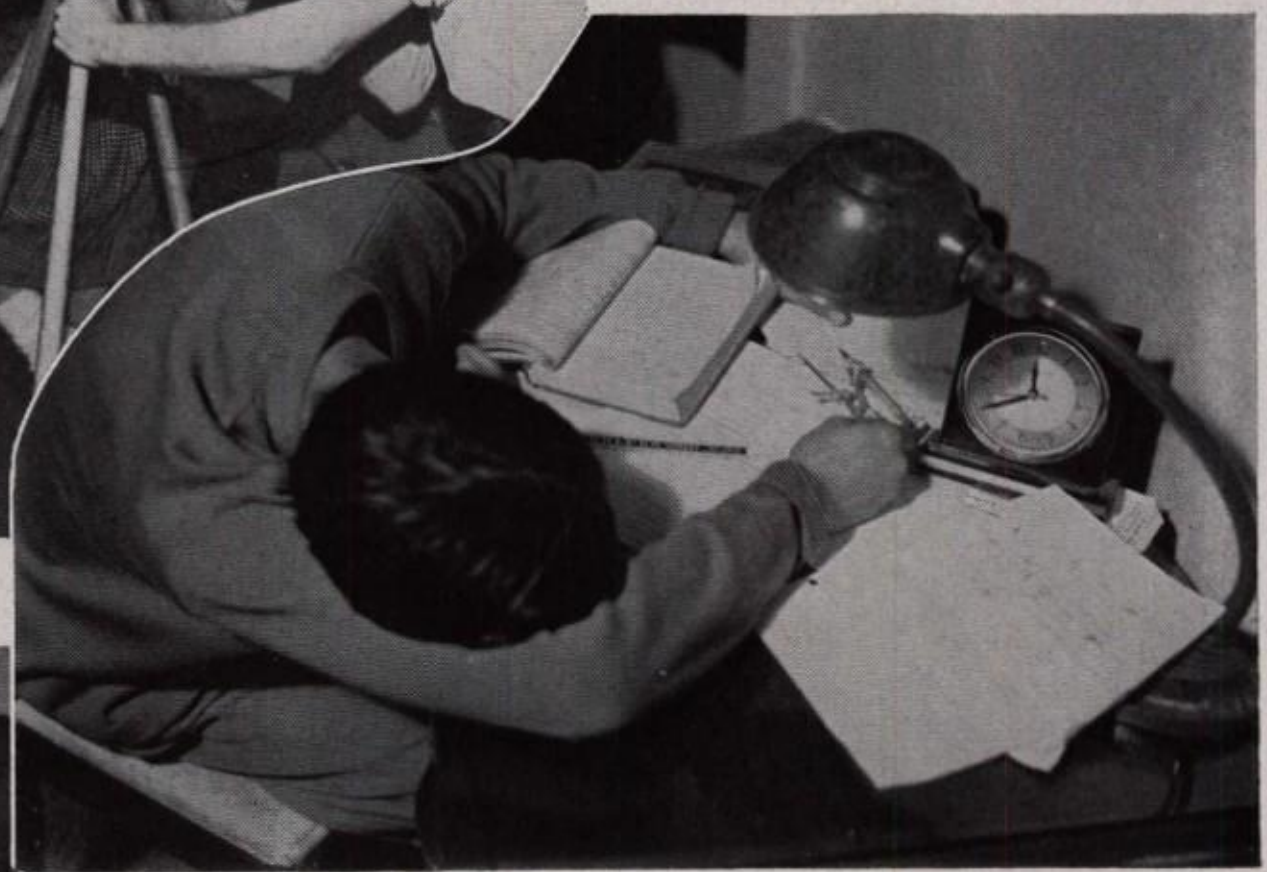
SOCIAL STUDIES

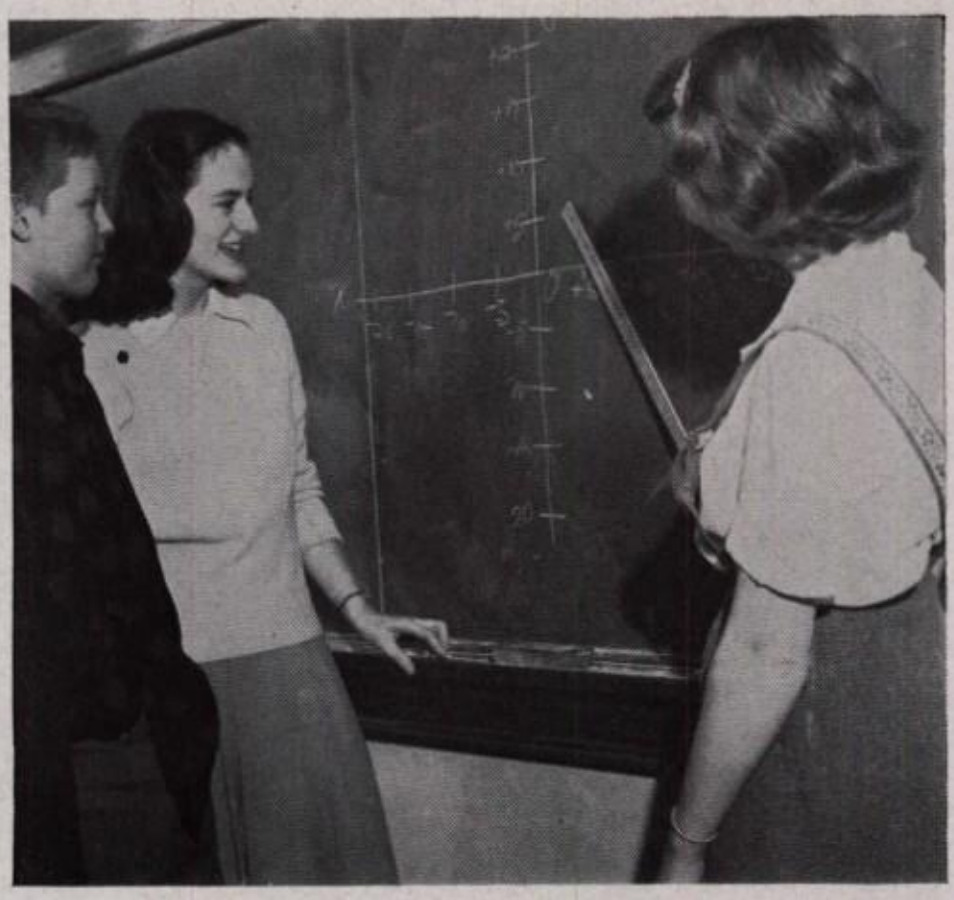
The Social Studies class is very important in the training of tomorrow's citizens. As freshmen we learn the essentials of the government of the United States and other nations, and compare them. In our junior year we study the history of our country, learn of our progress as well as the causes of past wars. The senior class time is devoted to discussions of the United Nations Organization, the World Bank, and other timely subjects concerning the world in which we live.

LANGUAGES

Accompanied by Reddy Grey, I stopped at a little Spanish town during a fiesta to watch the gay senors and senoritas dance by, their red sashes and black mantillas flying. A few minutes later we were in gay Paris where we marched under the Arch de Triomphe and placed our order with a French garcon in a sidewalk cafe. Jet propulsion, you ask? My, no. We were just attending two of Shorewood's several language classes. Auf wiedersehen!

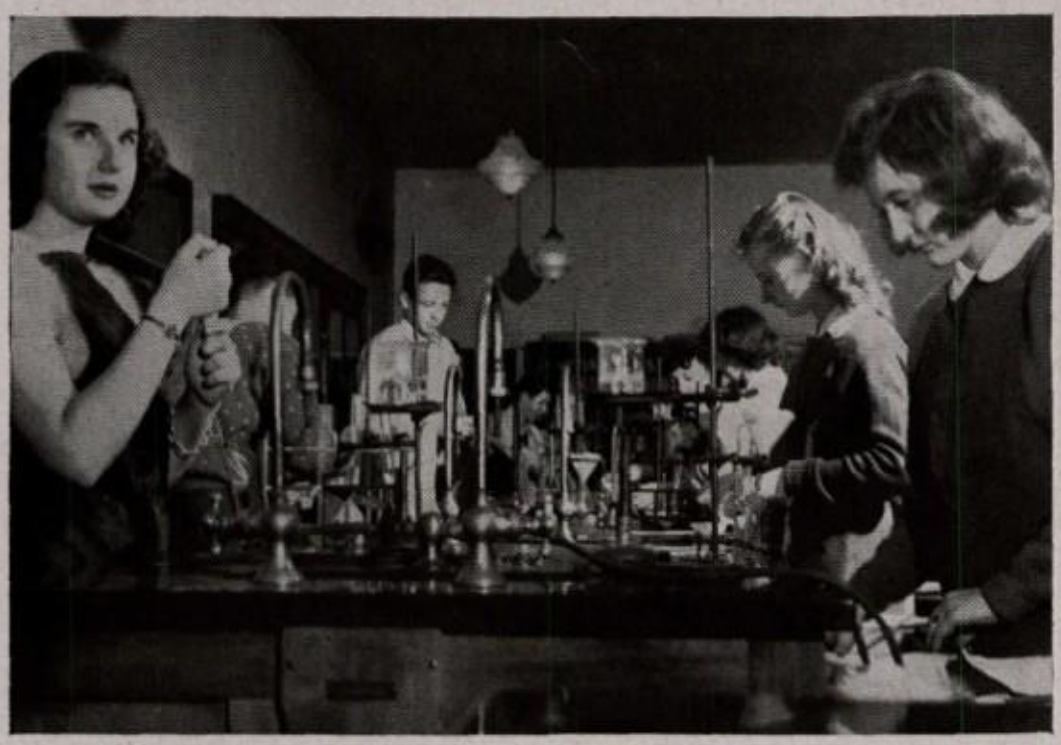






MATHEMATICS

Mathematics, one of the sciences of the ages, is of vital significance to every individual. Whether a person is a struggling Shorewoodite, a simple layman, a Henry Ford, or an Albert Einstein, he must know how to add his twos and twos or juggle his sines and cosines because everyday living will demand it of him. For this reason the seven members of our math department's faculty work patiently and systematically teaching all who will listen.



SCIENCE

In Shorewood High's well-equipped science department, the students, under the supervision of Harold Wierks or any of the five other science instructors, can study and experiment in a wide variety of fields. So, without breaking too much equipment, it is possible to accomplish many scientific feats. The chemistry, physics, and biology laboratories each have an exceptionally fine assortment of apparatus, and the general science classes draw upon the resources of all.

LIBRARY

"Study in solitude in Shemorry's sanctum" might be a good motto for our library. It is the place where one may increase his knowledge by the use of reference books, where one may read purely for relaxation, or where students may delve into their studies. The library has been kept up to date by the efforts of Miss Shemorry and Miss Baum, so that now we have approximately 11,000 books to help us in our daily work.

COMMERCE

When walking into any of Shorewood's commercial classes, one may see the future business men and women of Milwaukee. After taking this course, Sister Sue can do anything from operating a mimeograph and making a post-closing trial balance, to taking and transcribing shorthand notes. As the would-be First Aider voluntarily gives advice, so the Commercial Law student tries to settle cases out of court for fortunate (?) friends with his brief knowledge of "The Law".

MUSIC

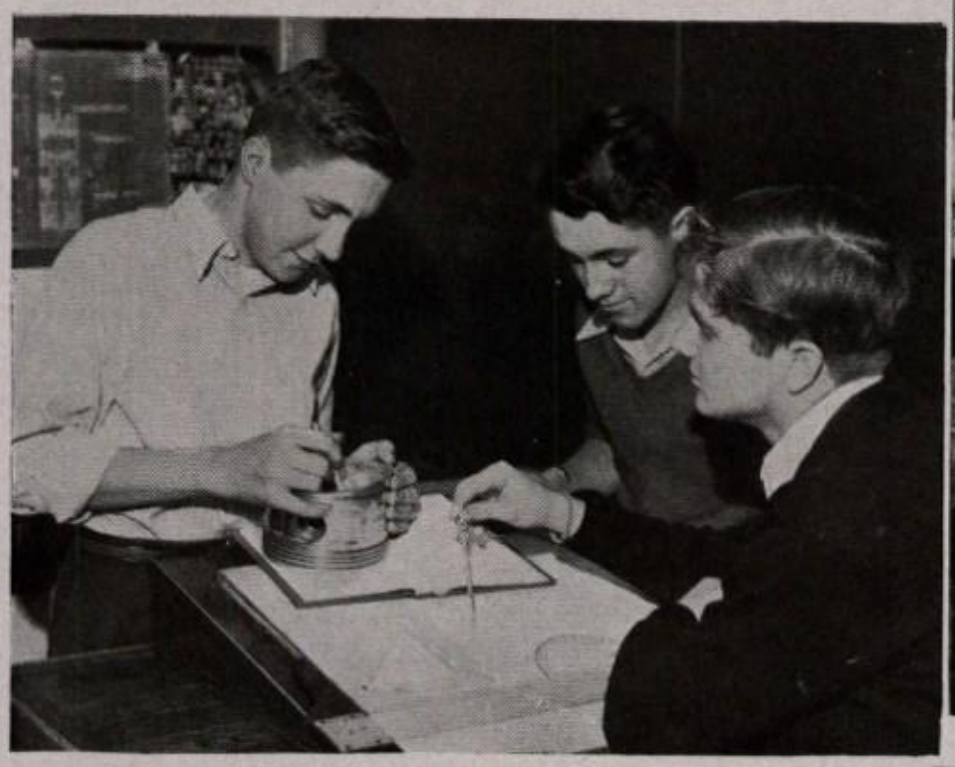
"From Natchez to Mobile, from Lakebluff to Shorewood, our teachers done told us—sing—or play." And Shorewoodites do give vent to the pent up rhythm in their souls, by playing anything from Chopin to boogie woogie, blaring out one of Sousa's marches, or raising their voices to one of the "Mets" favorite arias, or Frank Sinatra's latest. And so Shorewood's department of music keeps students learning and America singing.

ART

Climbing the three flights of stairs to the Dome must have an auspicious effect, for the art students, under the direction of Miss Elise Johann, turn out many unusual projects. Along with their regular class work, these future Rembrandts find time to give their assembly and the annual Art tea to explain some of the activities of these classes to the rest of the school.

HOME ECONOMICS

The constant whir of sewing machines and the delicious aromas permeating the air of the first floor of the science building typify the many courses offered by our competent Home Economics department. The capable homemakers who graduate from Shorewood High give credit to Misses Fleming and Robinson who with Mrs. James direct the activities. Not only do girls benefit from this training but the junior high boys also learn the mysteries of the kitchen.

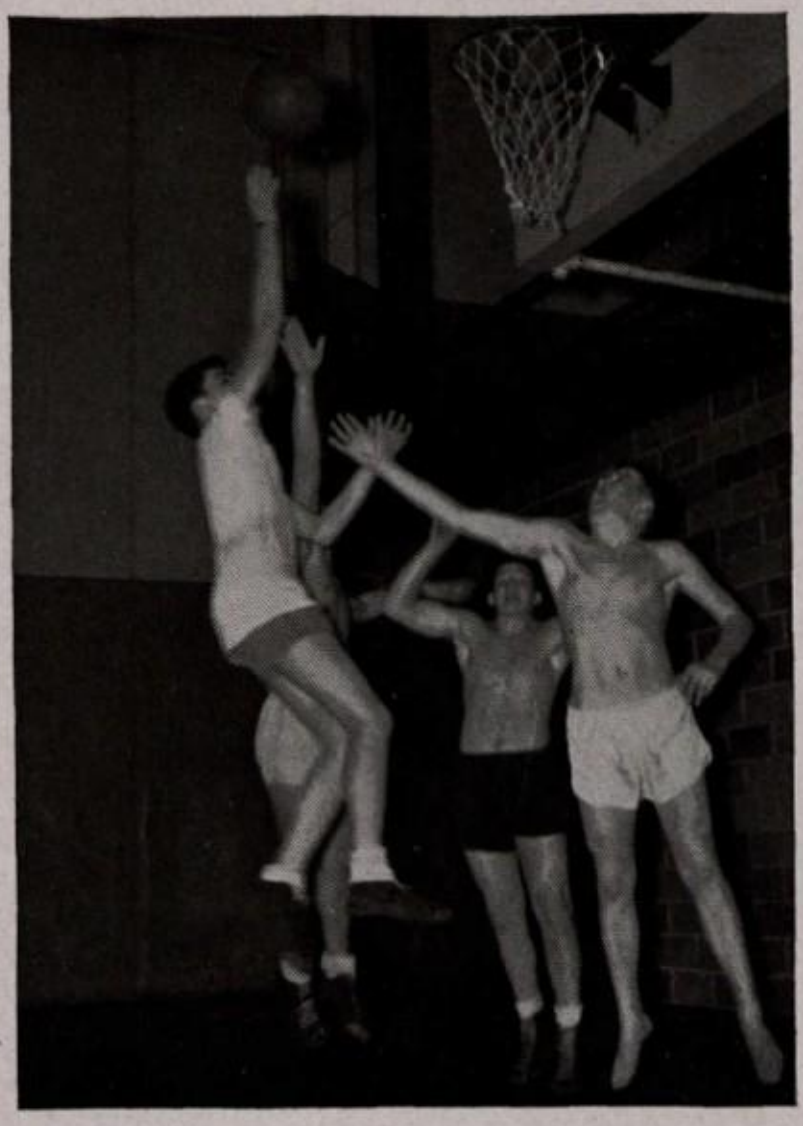


INDUSTRIAL ARTS

Bang! Ouch! Oh, my thumb! Where's the soldering iron. These and many more such exclamations can be heard as one walks past the shop. Within, busy students industriously pound and saw masterpieces in wood and metal, while on the third floor of the administration building, T-squares, triangles, and drafting boards are evident as architectural and mechanical drawing designs appear. Completing Shorewood's wide field of industrial arts is machine shop, where many Shorewood students become acquainted with the fundamentals of mechanics.

GIRLS' PHYSICAL EDUCATION

An investigation of the noise that comes from the blacktop on any nice fall day will show that the girls' gym classes are playing an energetic game of soccer or baseball. On the other side of the gym building, a game of field hockey or perhaps a tennis match is being enjoyed. As winter comes again, the basketball begins to roll over the gym floor; and spring brings the clang of bats on the blacktop.

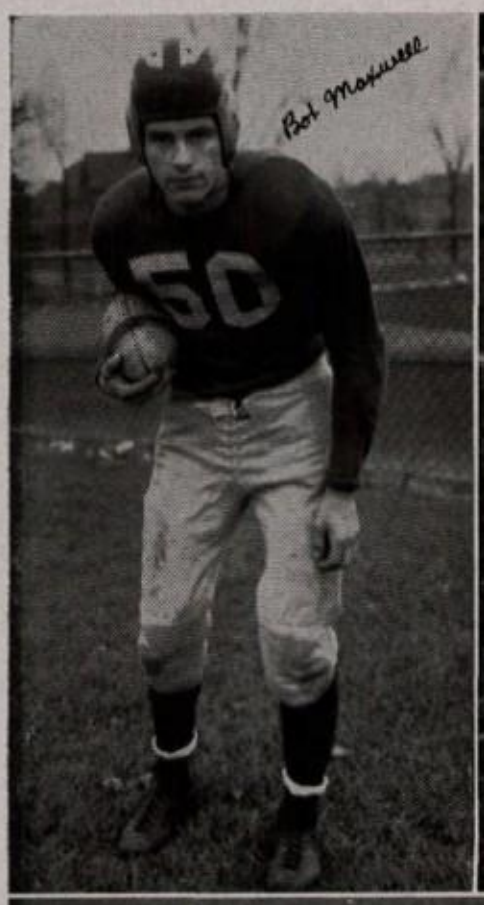


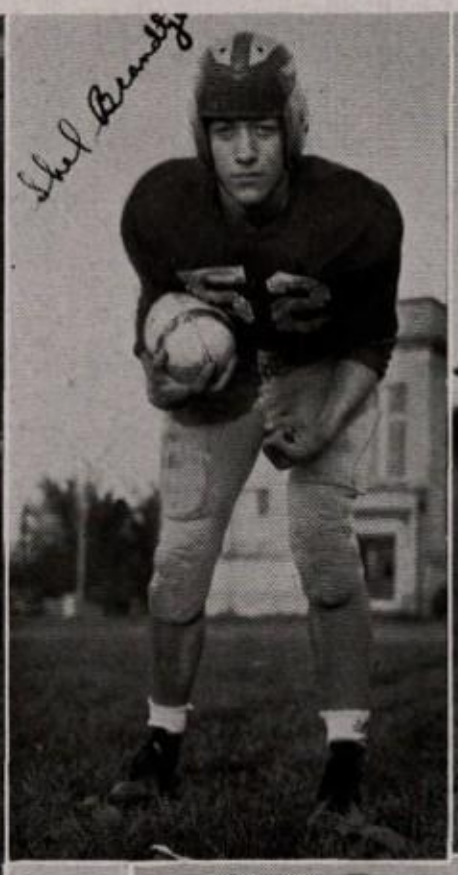
BOYS' PHYSICAL EDUCATION

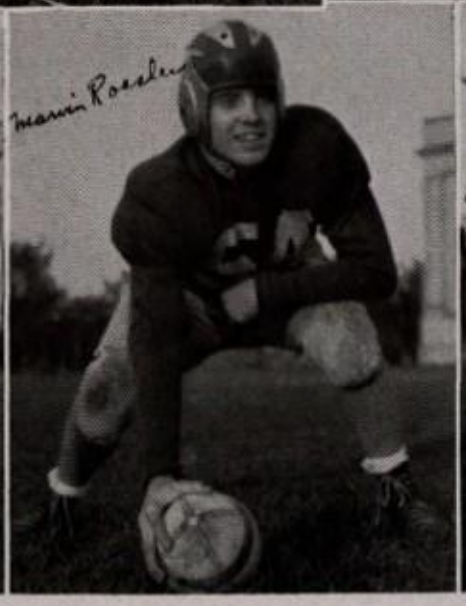
From the upper football field, right below the western windows of the Science building, the yells and howls of the boys of the gym classes are heard as they play touch football on bright autumn days. When "Old Man" winter comes blowing around the northeast corner, the boys play basketball in the gym or try their skill at hockey. As spring makes itself evident, the boys indulge in brisk games of baseball on the blacktop.

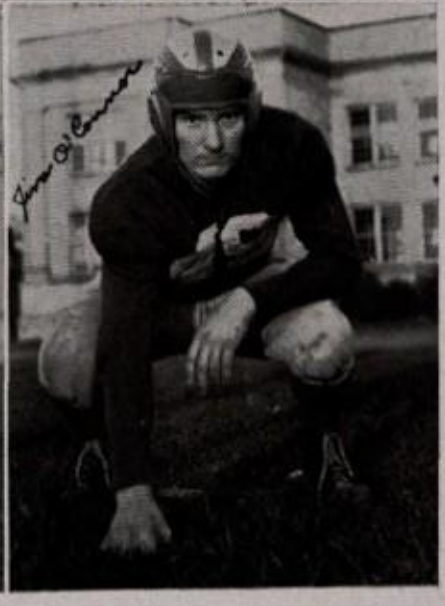
HEALTH

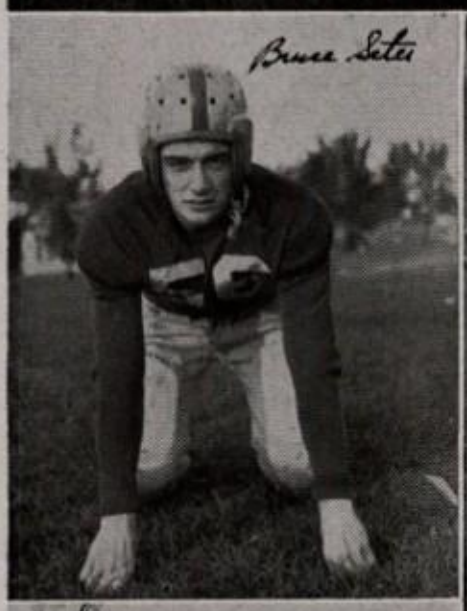
"A healthy community is a happy community," and the students of Shorewood are jolly; for their health is looked after by a capable group of individuals. The main job of Dr. Jerome Jekel, Mrs. Irene Hugunin, and their assistants is not only placing thermometers in the mouths of goldbricking students, but is checking the spread of contagious diseases, educating the student body in personal hygiene, and cooperating in the state program for the prevention of tuberculosis.

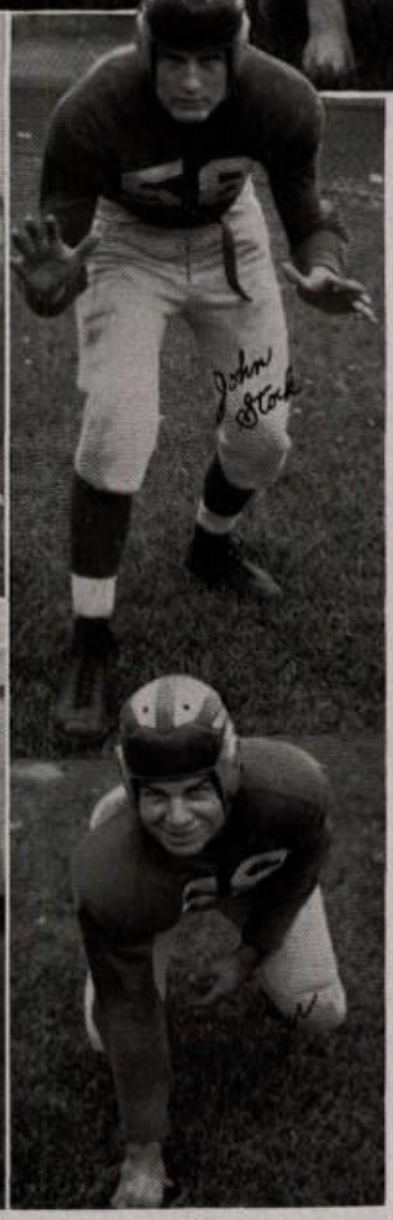


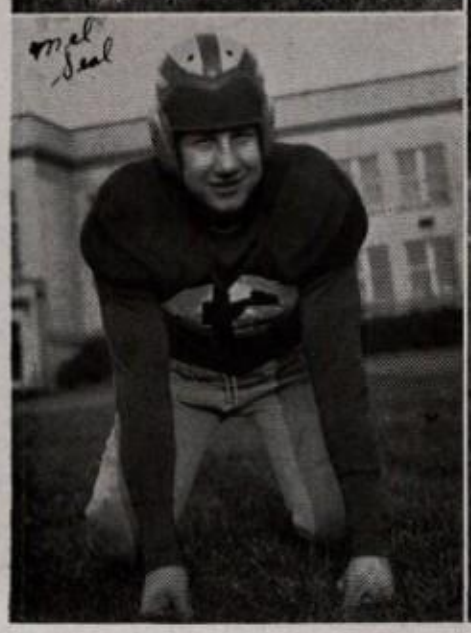












FOOTBALL

Opening the season against West Allis Nathan Hale with a game postponed from a rainy Friday night to the following Saturday September 29, the Crimsonmen came through with scores in the third and fourth quarters to shut out Hale 13-0. On Friday October 5 against West Milwaukee, the Greyhounds started out strong scoring a touchdown in the first three minutes of play only to lose 10-7 on a field goal in the last 20 seconds of the game. The last five minutes proved to be a turning point in the West Allis Central game, when the boys in Red and Grey scored two touchdowns to snare the victory 19-13.

Cudahy was the next victim on the list, bowing to a swift attack and strong defense by a score of 14-0. A highlight of this defense was a goal line stand in the first half. Waukesha's unbeaten league champions had their toughest battle of the season against the Red and Grey, the Blackshirts coming through to win 12-7. The Greyhounds outplayed their neighbors to the north for three quarters, but in the fourth quarter faltered, and Whitefish Bay won the Glory trophy for the first time in six years. 'Tosa seemed to have all their early season power in their victory over the Red and Grey squad. This was the only game of the season in which the Greyhound eleven was held scoreless. Throughout the season, the expert job done by coaches Lloyd Johnson and William Olson merited the praise of all.

WEASELS AND FROSH

It is recognized that a good share of the success of Shorewood varsity teams in athletic competition is due to the fact that as junior high students these same boys receive excellent training in each and every sport. Both the Weasel and the freshman football teams had colorful seasons. The seventh and eighth grade Weasels, under Coach Louis Erickson and assistant coach Arthur Hill, finished their season with only one defeat and tied for the championship with Santa Monica. The frosh eleven, under the tutelage of head coach Pete Colosimo and his assistant Vince Alcott, ended their season with a record of five wins and one setback. They tied for the title with the only team that beat them, Whitefish Bay.

CROSS COUNTRY

Our hill and dale boys of the 1945 season galloped through their schedule with a show of heels to many a good runner. Displaying the power of a well balanced team, the boys won all their dual meets, defeating Port Washington, Riverside, and Wauwatosa. This balance of strength came largely from the seven men who won letters: Co-captains Julian Taylor and Jim Fiedler who were both consistent men in all meets, Don Rumpf, Bob Slater, Glen Norlander who came in 20th out of 150 runners in the State meet, Glenn Busack, and Walter Brandis. While these country crossers did not gain any championships, their record is very impressive. In addition to the winning of all dual meets, fifth place was taken in the Suburban meet although several key men were out at the time. Eighth place was gained in the State meet in competition with twenty state schools. In the State meet, with all our boys running, they came in third among the Suburban schools entered by beating Wauwatosa, West

"Wizard Will" did it again. Coach Bill Olson's master strategy came through again with the sixth Suburban Championship in the last eight years. He built his squad around seven returning lettermen and an adequate supply of new material to round out the team. In a furious drive down the closing stretch the Greyhounds won their last three games to make it an undisputed crown.

In two pre-season games the Red and Grey quintet was rather slow in starting, succumbing to Riverside and Fond du Lac. Injuries kept several boys from gaining their top form until the season was well under way. Meeting a green Packer team at Cudahy in the first conference tilt, the Greyhounds had no trouble in overpowering them; and when the Packers came here for a return game, they were smothered again. The first game with Waukesha proved to be another easy victory for the Red and Grey quintet. An improved Blackshirt team proved tougher on its home floor but was finally downed by one point in a last-minute thriller. In the two games with West Allis Hale, the Greyhounds met a powerful team but were able to come away on top both times. The initial game with Wauwatosa was the first downfall of the Red and Grey five and a flashy Raider team went home victorious. However, in the return game at 'Tosa when the Greyhounds were fighting for the undisputed title, they turned the tables and won an overtime thriller. Clashing with the Red Rockets at South Milwaukee, the Crimsons were turned out again for their second and last conference defeat of the season.

In other conference games the Olsonmen trounced West Allis Central, Whitefish Bay, and West Milwaukee. While in some non-league tilts they beat Port Washington and Stevens Point, after losing to the Bay and Wisconsin Rapids.

Going into the Regional Tournament at Wauwatosa, the Greyhounds lost the first game to a hot Wauwatosa quintet. They did get back into the fight though by beating Cedarburg and Menomonee Falls to take consolation honors, and making a record of ten wins out of the last eleven games.

Captained by Marv Roesler and Chuck Brynteson, the latter who was named on the All Suburban teams, the squad was made up of four seniors and six juniors. Bob Maxwell, junior guard, was awarded a berth on the second All Suburban team for his all-around steady playing. Rounding out the quintet were Bob LaBudde, tricky junior guard, and John Stock, rebound-grabbing junior center. Letters were also awarded to Carl Winnemann, six foot, seven inch, senior center; Al Schinner, steady-playing guard; Jim Whittet, angle-shooting junior forward; Bob Manger, junior guard; and Glenn Stolz, senior guard whose specialty was one-handed push shots.

SWIMMING

This year's swimming team proved rather good hearted in many cases, dropping quite a few meets, to give other teams a chance for top honors. Led by co-captains Dick Brooks and Bill Frank, the finmen won seven out of ten meets, took second place in the suburban meet, and fifth place in the state meet. The team with a nucleus of nine lettermen and a lot of good experience behind it, met Bay View in the first meet of the season winning easily 47-36. The next week against Washington the score was repeated. Waukesha was the next victim of the Crimson Armada on the short end of a 47-36 score. The next two meets with West Milwaukee and Boys' Tech were both won easily.

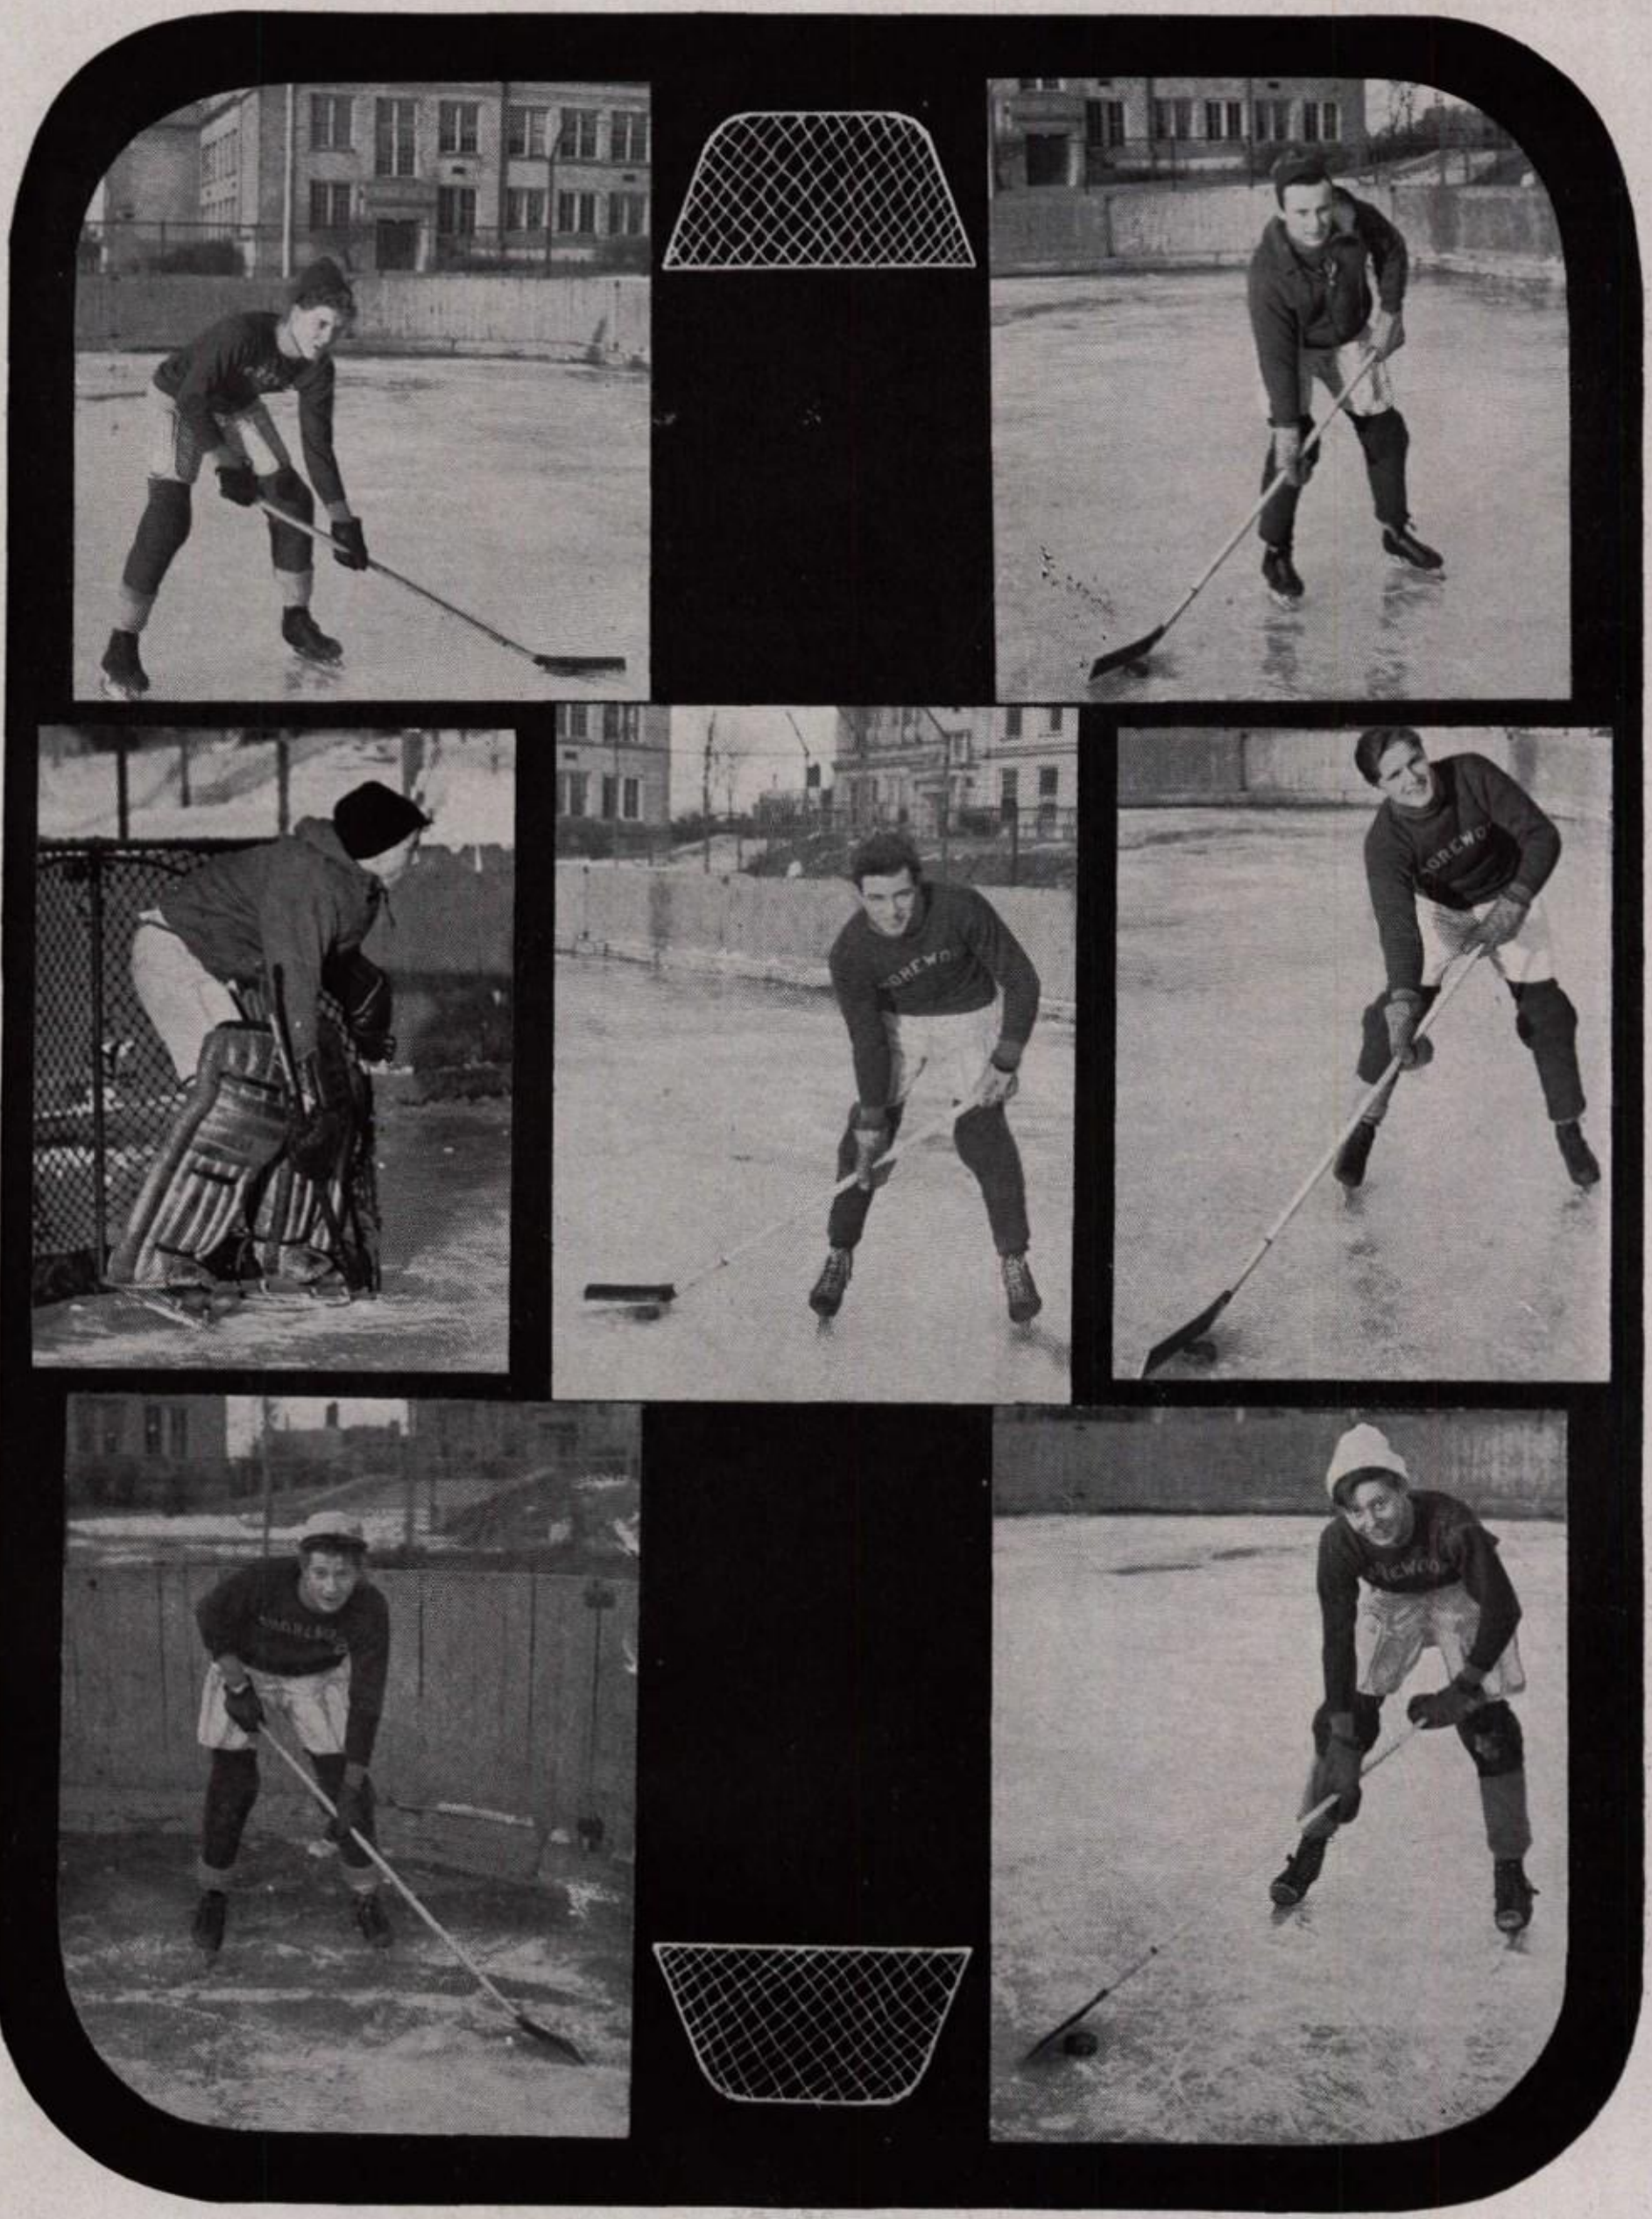
BLASKOVICS

In the annual Waukesha Relays the crimson fleet was able to capture third place. A strong Wauwatosa team overpowered the Red and Grey swimmers by a score of 62-21, but the next week the Crimson Armada came back just as strong to take West Allis Central into port by a score of 61-22. The Greyhounds were beaten once again by Pulaski, but the next meet against Cudahy was won easily.

Throughout the season the expert coaching and good condition of the team was shown. There was at all times a determination which brought the team through with the record they had. With the good experience gained by those boys who will return next year, fans may look forward to a bright future.

Swimmers who won letters were Dick Brooks, Bill Frank, Laurie Eiseman, Chuck Rosenak, Jim Wolters, Milan Blaskovics, Frank Smith, Bob Olin, Dan Gruender, Don Diamond, John Imse, David Safer, Harold Schmidt, Bill Ferguson, Jack Kraina, Rudy Matzke, Jim Lang, and Ted Rosenak.



HOCKEY

Shorewood's ice hockey team, composed of a squad of twenty-five boys, finished second in the Southeastern Hockey Prep League. St. Johns captured the championship with seven victories. The Greyhound puckchasers have never finished below third place in this league. Ed Hoffmann and Duane Krueger are the only seniors on the squad so it looks as if Shorewood should be right up there again next year. The Crimsonmen won 6 games, lost 3, and tied 1 in league competition while the season record was 9 games won, 3 lost, and 1 tied.

Shorewood opened the season with a 3 to 1 victory over Marquette. During the holidays the Crimson sextet won from the Alumni in a close battle and the Beaver Dam "Y" team, 6 to 1. On January 11 the St. Francis team lost to Shorewood 9 to 6 with the entire Red and Grey squad getting a chance to play. On the following day the old rivals from Country Day were defeated 5 to 2 with Hoffmann paving the way with 3 goals. On the 30th St. Johns was red hot and made 5 goals to the Greyhounds 3. Marquette beat Shorewood for the first time in history when they got a lucky shot that hit the edge of the goal and won by a 2 to 1 score. For the second time Shorewood trimmed the St. Francis team 6 to 1, with Hoffmann banging in 3 goals. Country Day was the next victim for the second time losing by a score of 6 to 0. On the fourth of February Messmer was lucky to tie the Red and Grey 2 to 2. The Messmer lads hadn't forgotten the first game so they were out to do or die. No overtime was played as Messmer had to leave early. On January 9 at St. John, the cadets again trimmed the Greyhounds 4 to 0 for the first shutout of the year. Morton High of Chicago drove up on February 11 to complete the Crimson season, losing to the Red and Grey 4 to 3. Scoring honors for the season went to Ed Hoffmann who tallied 28 goals and 4 assists. The following boys earned the coveted "S": Ed Hoffmann, and Duane Krueger, seniors; Tom Schneider and Burton Gonui, juniors; and Dick Weeks, Jim Krueger, and David Isola, sophomores. Meriting honorable mention were Don Anderson, Bill Bavier, Jack Carney, Ray Erickson, Jim Pfeil, and Ken Wageman.

TRACK

Five returning lettermen, all of proven ability, led this year's cinder crushers through a nine meet season in which the team did consistently well.

Bill Orth, winner of the quarter mile in the suburban last year proved to be one of the top runners in the state. Bill, who is a co-captain, ran in the 200 and in the 440 yard relay team. Dick Brooks, the other co-captain, specialized in the 200 yard low hurdles, while he also participated in the high jump and the broad jump. Bob Gottschalk was a consistent point getter throughout the season in the high and low hurdles and as a member of the relay team. Sheldon Brandtjen, who received a letter as a freshman, took over the sprints, relay, and broad jump in good form. Even greater things can be expected of this boy in the future. John Spetz, the fifth returning letterman, ran with excellent form in the high and low hurdles. Glenn Busack was one of the top contenders in the dashes and was throughout the season one of the mainstays of the team.

Julian Taylor and Jim Fiedler proved to be strong men in the distance events consistently gathering points. Jack Carney and Walter Brandis also added strength in the distances. At the beginning of the season it was noted that the field events were the weak spots. The losses of Chuck Mattefs, Dick Porth, and Ed Reineck through graduation, and Roland Kurth and Jack Murphy to the armed services were felt in these spots.

Coach Louis Erickson worked with all the boys on the squad, with Kurt Zander assisting in the distance events, and Lloyd Johnson helping develop the boys in the field events. These three coaches took this good material and built up the field events to the extent that this team proved to be one of the most well balanced squads in recent years. The fact that a good many of the boys will be back next year makes future teams have a good outlook.

Practicing for the meet with Port Washington is John Spetz, hurdler.

TENNIS

Finishing up among the top contenders for the suburban tennis crown, Coach Whitey Ketelaar's racquetmen completed a highly successful season. Mr. Ketelaar built his squad around seven returning lettermen including Chuck Brynteson, Glenn Stolz, Tom Aliota, and Ken Rosenthal, seniors, and Bob Maxwell, Jim Whittet, and Bob LaBudde, juniors. Newcomers who made an excellent impression were Al Schinner, junior, and Ralph Woodworth, Sherwood Temkin, and Jim Gross, sophomores.

GOLF

Coach Ole Gunderson's linksters, bolstered by the return of three lettermen, Marv Roesler, John Kurtz, and Don Lang, were able to complete a favorable season. The divot-diggers enjoyed a heavy schedule, which began this year with Marquette during the third week in April. Highlighting the golf season was the Suburban meet held at Grant park and the State meet, which afforded the golf team valuable experience.

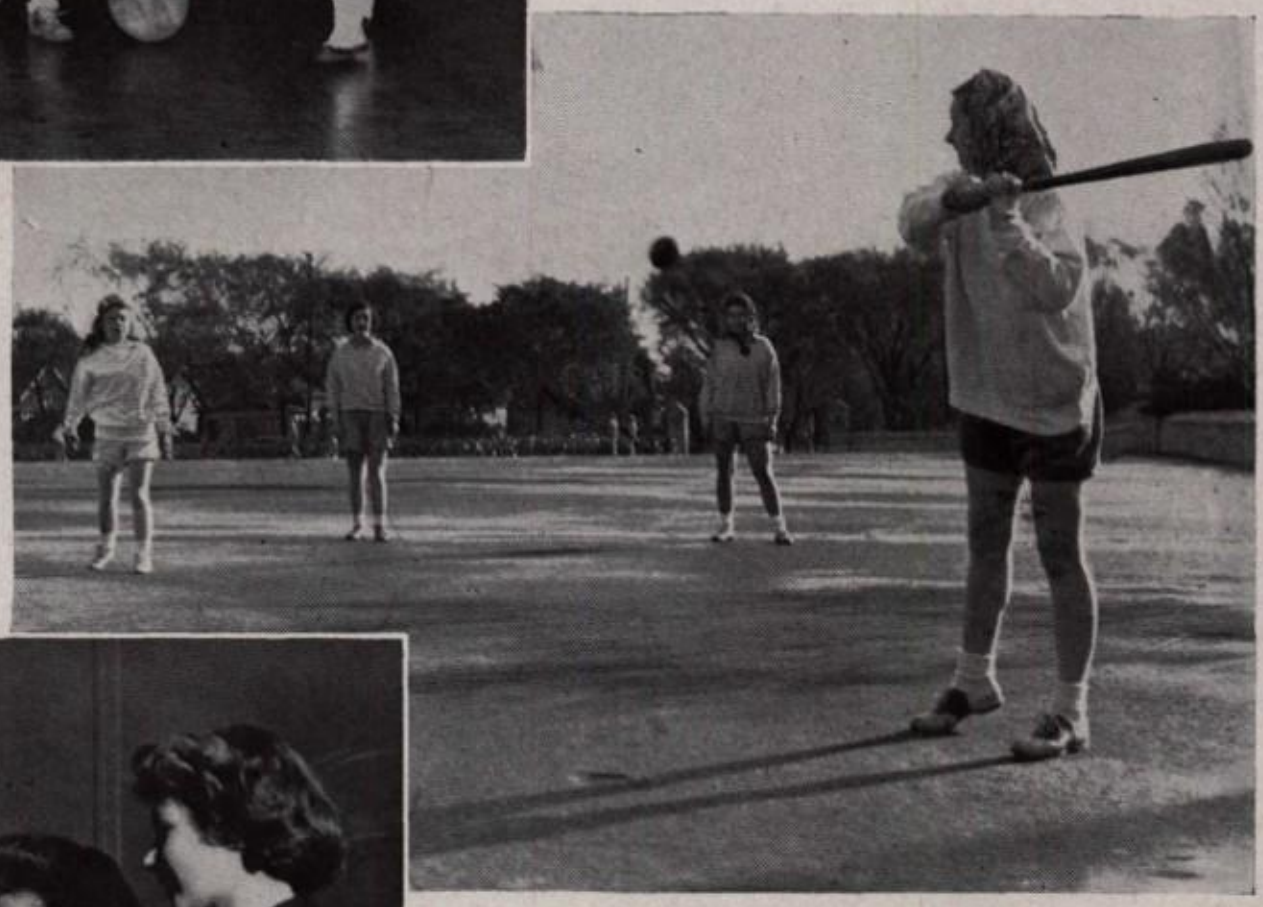
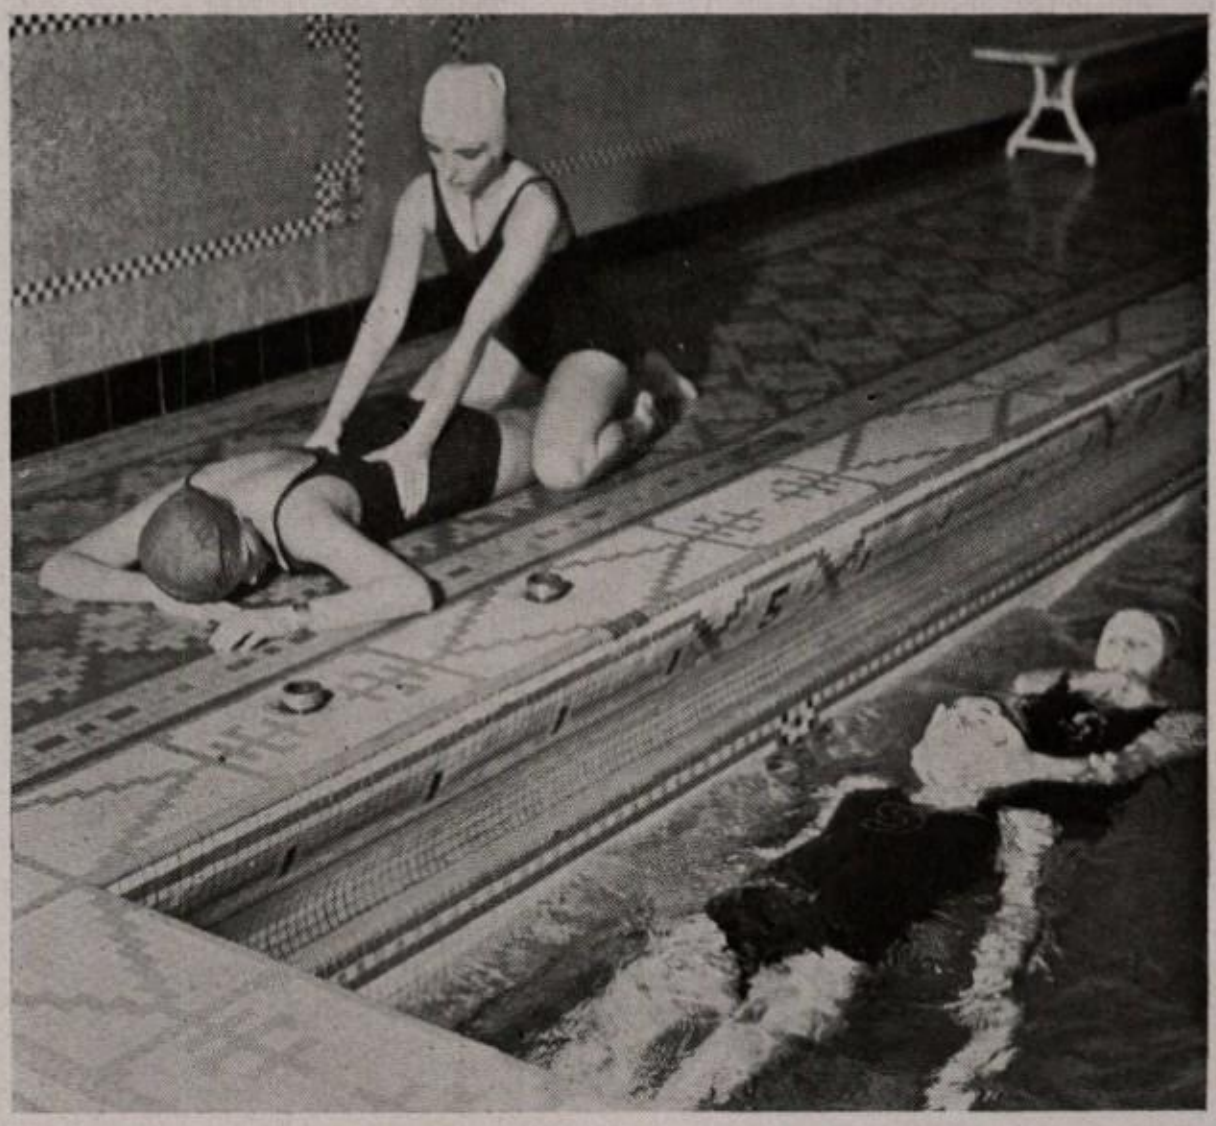
LEADERS' CLUB

The purpose of Leaders' club, under the direction of Miss Haensgen, is to develop skill and assurance in athletically-minded girls. A member must have at least a B average in physical education and show an interest in helping others as well as herself to improve their skills and techniques. Club members referee during all Sports sessions. At the end of the year a picnic is held on the school grounds, and at that time letters are presented to deserving members and the new officers are elected.



Bright and early on Monday morn
Twenty-five girls far from forlorn,
Ambitious gals who study the rules
And learn to handle the various tools
Of all the sports from spring through fall
Such as baseball, soccer, and basketball,
Gather together for a playful meeting,
And 150 minutes move most fleeting.



LIFE SAVING CLUB

Rub a dub, dub, three girls
in a tub
There're more than that in
Life Saving club.
Every Wednesday from
3:30 to 4:30 o'clock
Lifesavers are under the supervision of Miss Brock.
Holds, breaks, strokes, and artificial respiration
Are all perfected to be done without hesitation.

DANCE CLUB

It really takes talent to become a member
And take part in the assembly we all remember.
Every Wednesday till five in the upper gym
They dance and create every fancy and whim.
Miss Hamilton directs with her knowledge of dance
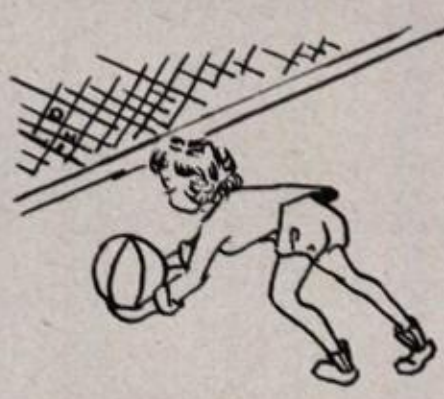
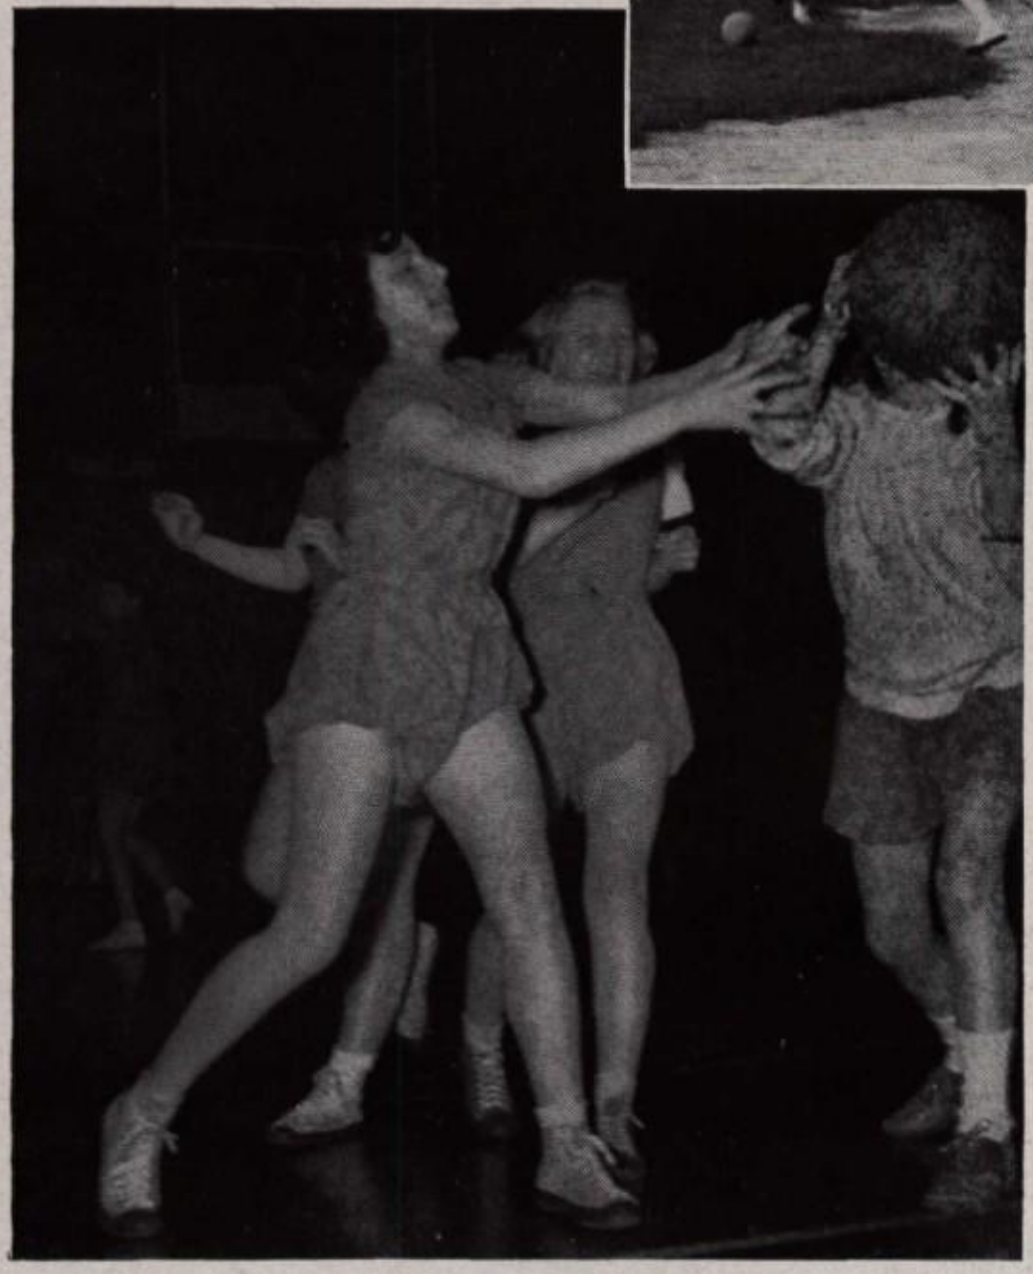
While the girls all leap,
jump, skip, and prance.

To be good in Sports club one must be versatile
Because all sports are played in such good style,
Hockey, soccer, baseball, and basketball
Are all played from winter through fall.





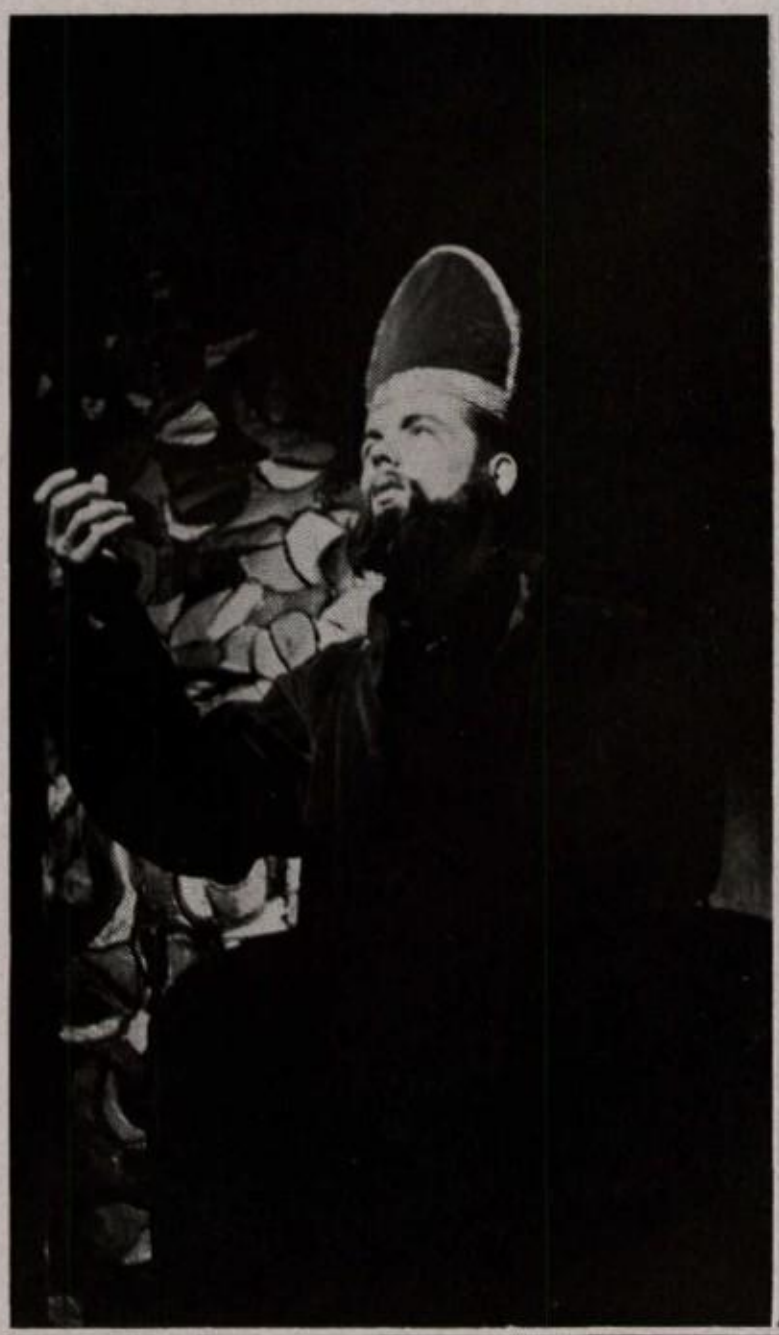
SPORTS CLUB

On Monday nights juniors and seniors take over the gym for an hour of fun in Sports club, sponsored by Miss Haensgen. Wednesdays the freshmen and sophomores play the sport of the season. Then, not to be outdone by the upper classes, the junior high gals take over on Thursdays, directed by Miss Brock. Each season co-captains are elected by the various groups. Only the major games of soccer, basketball, volleyball, and baseball are played.

Activities

SENIOR CLASS PLAY

The cast of "The Man Who Came to Dinner" and the director, Miss Sturr, took their well-deserved curtain calls on May 18 and 19, 1945. The seniors were well represented in the play, with Jack Hafner as Sheridan Whiteside; Charlotte Heifetz as his secretary, Maggie Cutler; and others in various roles. Those not in the play contributed to its success with their work on the stage and make-up crews or the business staffs. The keen satire of the play coupled with the fine characterizations made this a production that will be remembered.



CHRISTMAS PLAY

The joyous yuletide spirit was evident when the Dramatic club, directed by Mrs. Lena F. Charlton, presented "The Promised One" as their annual Christmas play. Shepherds tending their flocks, peasants traveling through the streets of Bethlehem, and the Nativity pageant composed the three impressive scenes. Strains of hymns from the orchestra, directed by Miss Jane Hollyman, and Christmas carols from the choir, directed by E. Arthur Hill, accompanied this simple, but impressive story.

BAND

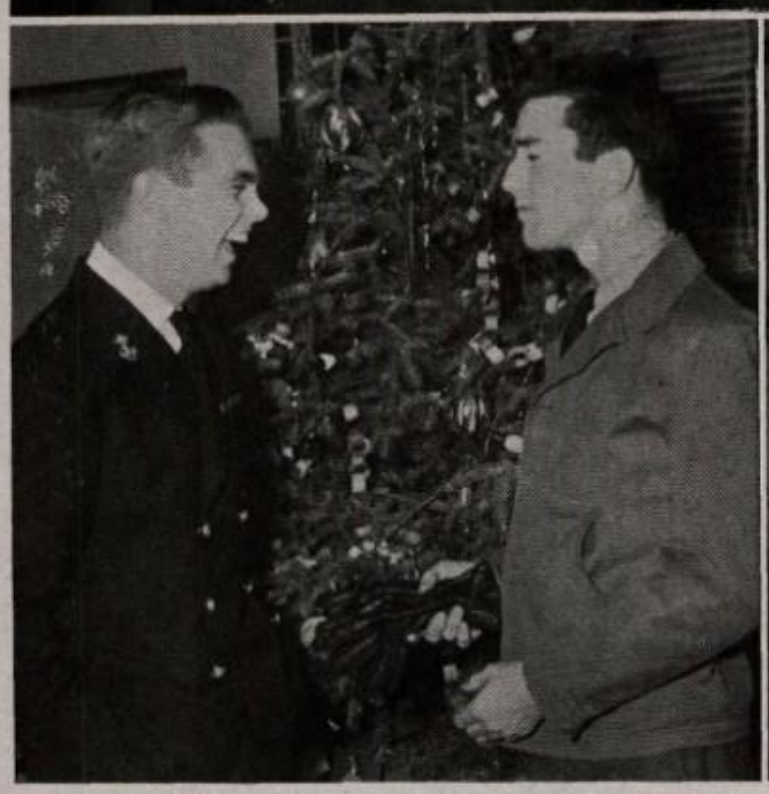
Disturbing neighboring classes with a variety of noises which magically turn into enjoyable music for the assemblies, the Band plays on. A reserved section for football and basketball games is a great attraction to new members as well as old ones, while the only great drawback is the frozen fingers and toes acquired while marching at football games. They join their friends in Choir and Orchestra for the Music Festival and the annual music trip.

ORCHESTRA

Playing undisturbed on Tuesdays and Thursdays, the orchestra, under the direction of Miss Hollyman, has to compete with the band for attention every Friday. They cooperate with the Dramatic club by furnishing intermission music for numerous plays while their grade and high school assemblies are always looked forward to by all students. In the spring after the completion of the Music Festival and the trip, the underclass members of the orchestra "pipe out" the seniors to the strains of "Pomp and Circumstance."

JUNIOR PROM

What could be more fun than a circus. A Junior Prom? Well, why not combine the two—and that's just what the class of '46 did, Their prom was held under the Big Top with a merry-go-round band stand and a side-show refreshment booth. Baby bears and monkeys peered out of their cages and little lambs hopped up and down as the juniors and seniors danced and paraded in the Grand March.



CHRISTMAS DANCE AND ALUMNI TEA

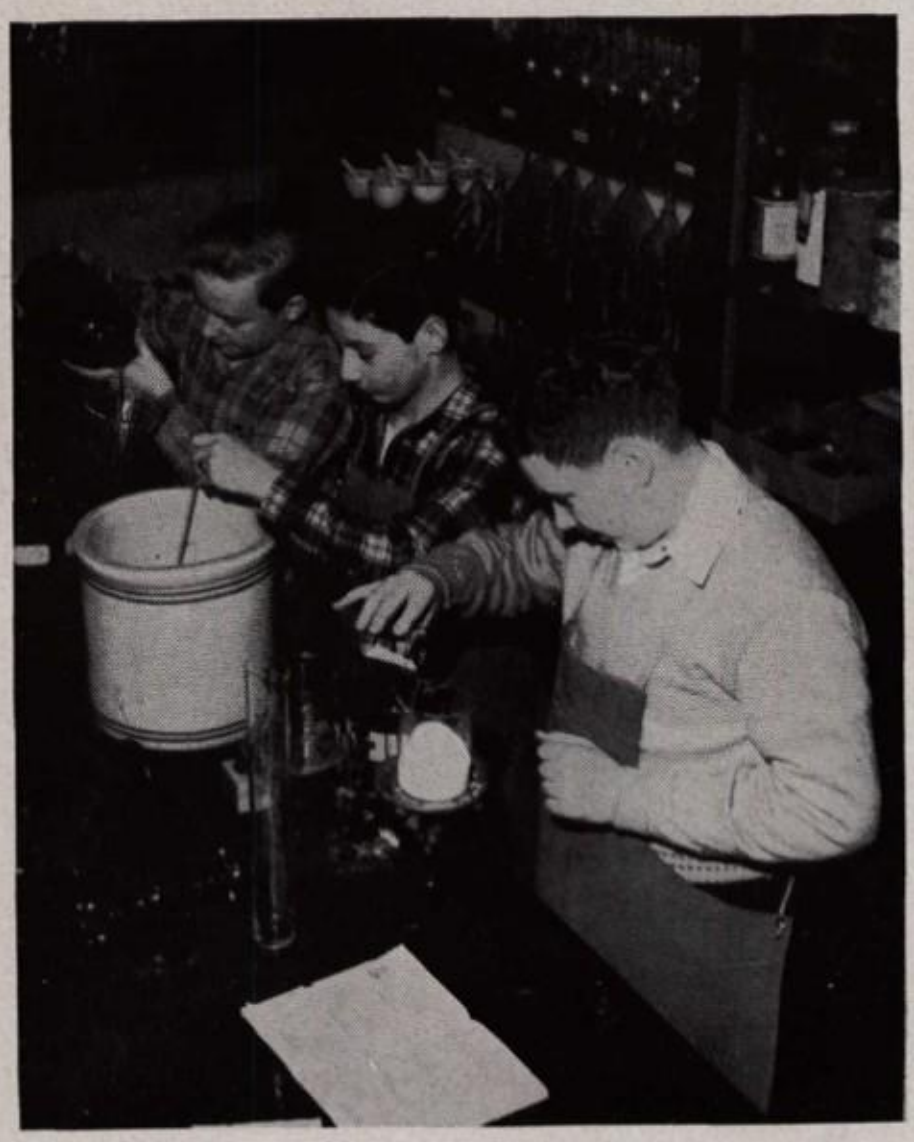
The Christmas vacation was highlighted by two events, the Christmas Dance and the Alumni Tea. The festive season began with the dance in the holly bedecked gym where doughnuts and cider, plus Bob Wendland's band inaugurated the holiday spirit and added to the attraction. The tea offered an opportunity for the seniors of the old and those of the present day to compare notes while returned servicemen renewed old acquaintances, and many thrilling experiences were related by the veterans.

OUR TOWN

From the volume of the applause on the evenings of November 16and 17, it was obvious that the Dramatic club had presented stimulating performances of Thornton Wilder's "Our Town". Bob Greaves, Nancy McCormick, and George Gartzke were among those who portrayed characters in this classic. Miss Rose Marie Mohrdieck, adviser, Mary Weimer, student director, and the entire stage and makeup crews, and business staff contributed in making this production one of the outstanding successes in the club's history.

DRAMATIC CLUB

A small-scale Hollywood is the Dramatic club, complete with budding stars, veteran troupers, extras, executives, crews, and prop men. The public—in this case the Shorewood student body — is entertained annually by such colossal productions as the classic, Christmas play, and one acts. The troupe went to Chicago on April 26, and returned with several new ideas which are to be incorporated next year. In training for future stardom, members of junior high dramatics present stage and radio plays.



COPPERDOME STAFF

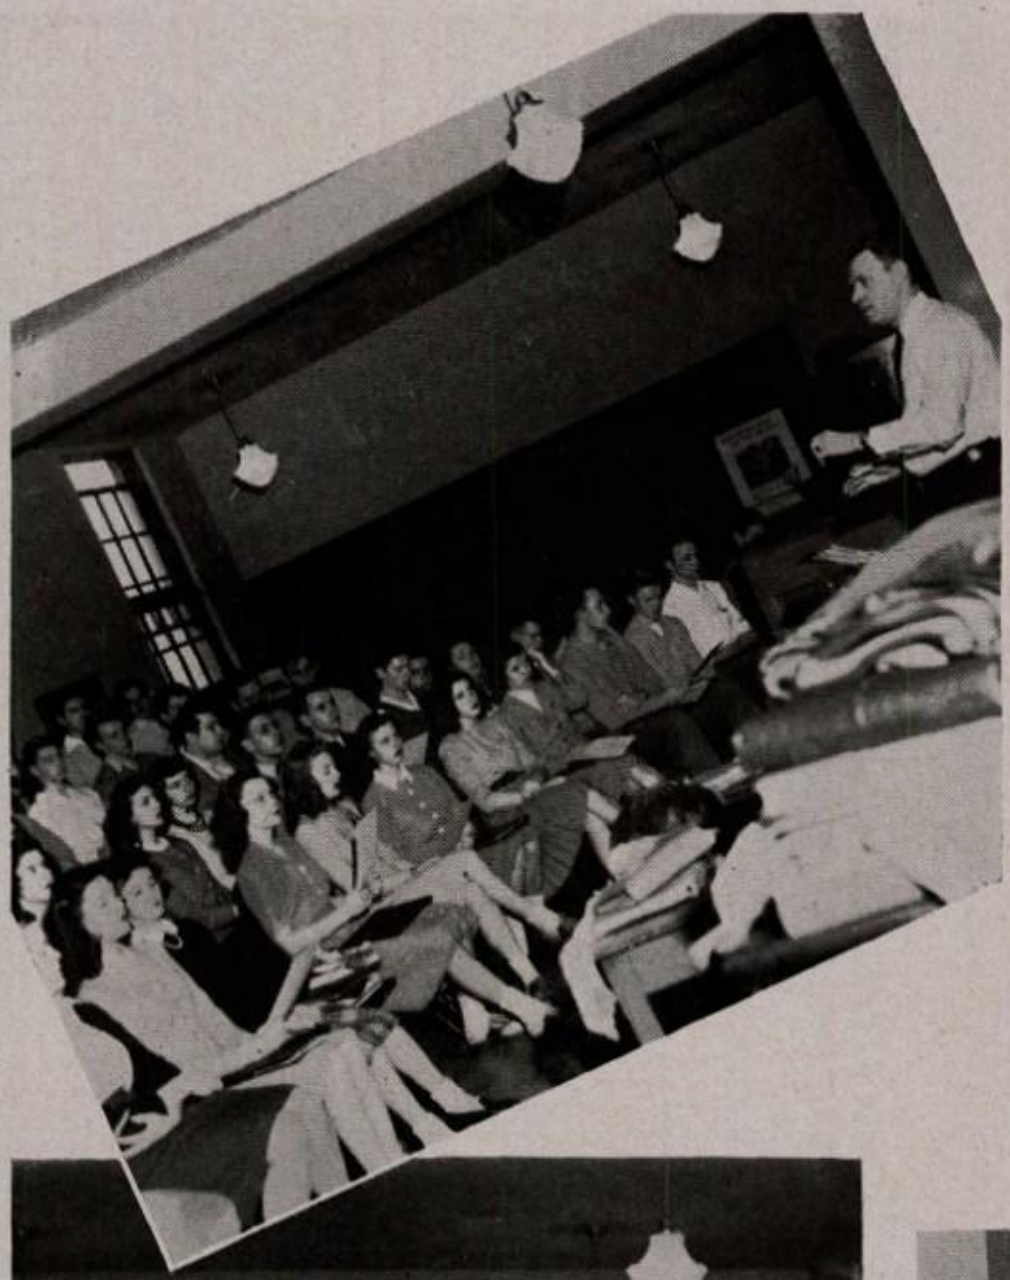
The editorial staff can be found in "235" industriously writing copy, planning layouts, or diligently cutting and pasting pictures. With Miss Janet Miller at the helm, this year's staff has aimed to maintain standards set by previous groups. The clicking shutters of the Camera club, under the guidance of Mr. Harold Wierks, record school activities on film for the Copperdome. Getting ads, campaigning for subscriptions, and clever distribution is the financial "wizardry" of Mr. Baltus and his aids.

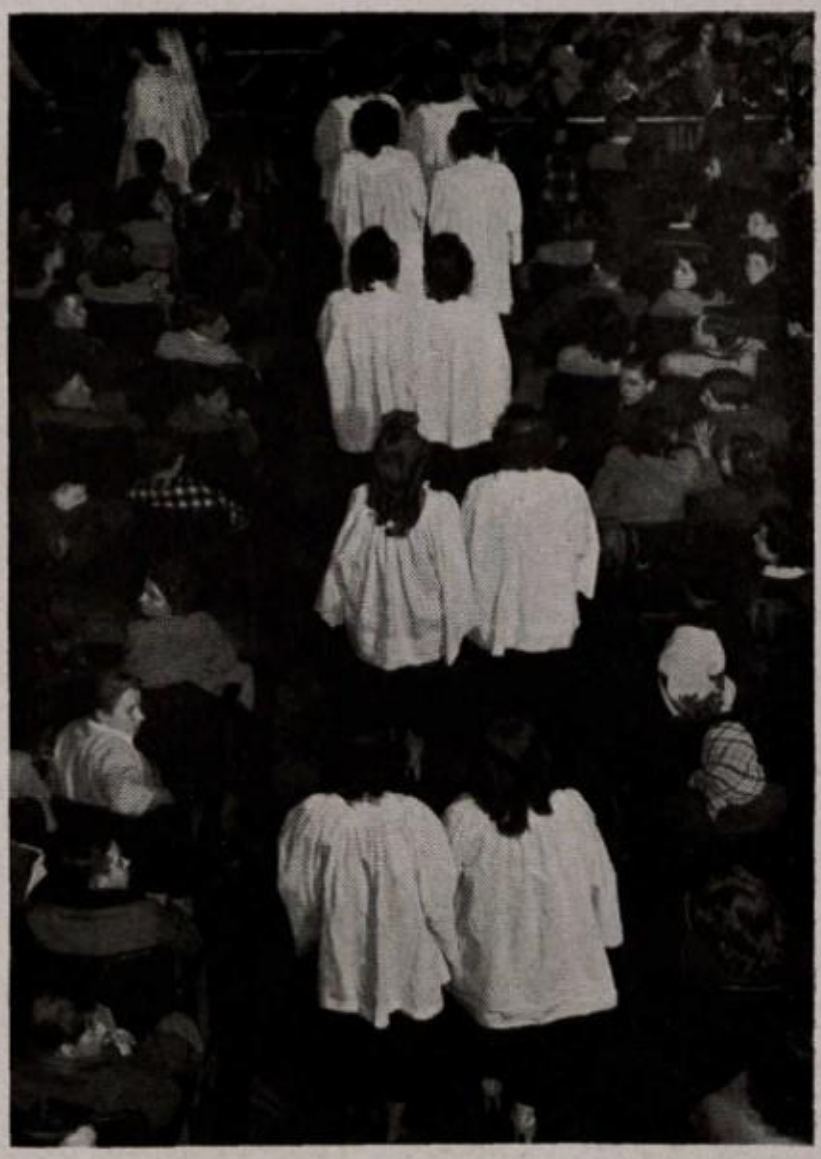
RIPPLES

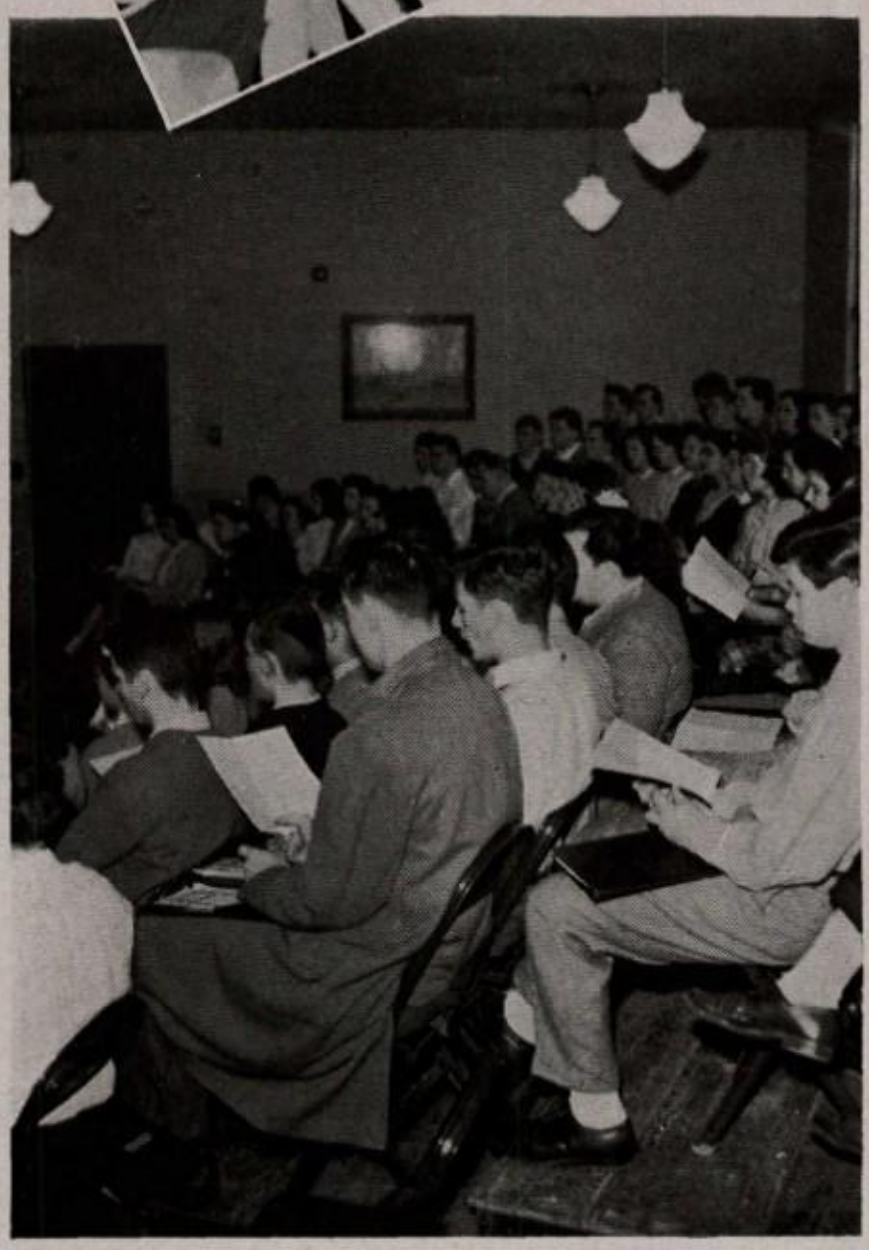
Under the guidance of Miss Bertha White, faculty adviser, and Laurence Eiseman, editor, the Ripples staff looks for scoops and reports the news. Graduating from the ranks of Junior Newsies, they showed unusual ability when they won the Medalist rating awarded by Columbia University. Photographs of school activities are taken by the Camera club, and the tasks of distribution and securing advertising is taken over by the business staff supervised by Lee D. Stabenow.

GLEE CLUBS

Girls and boys alike come twice each week to sing and to be trained for future participation in the Choir and Mixed Chorus. The boys, under the direction of Mr. Hill, and the girls, directed by Miss House, give several programs before the lectures and sing for the students of both Lake Bluff and Atwater schools. They combine their talents to entertain the students and faculty of the high school by their carolling in the halls during the Christmas season.







A'CAPPELLA CHOIR

Singing its way through various concerts throughout the year, the A Cappella Choir has grown to be one of the largest musical organizations in the school. Singing for the Sunday afternoon lectures, a concert for the Shorewood Woman's club, and a radio broadcast were among the Choir's many activities for this year. In addition to providing the musical background for the Christmas play, the Choir also had their share in the Music Festival and the annual trip.

COMMUNITY CHEST DRIVE

Under the leadership of Bill Ferguson, class president, the juniors sponsored our part of the Community Chest drive this year. Lending an ear and then a helping hand to their pleas, the students pitched in to help make the drive a success so that less fortunate people might receive needed clothing, food, and shelter.

BLOCK CAPTAINS

Successfully completing four years of service to their community and school, the Block Captains received certificates of service for their work from their director Orville Palmer and Dr. Grant Rahn, principal. This organization of captains and majors distributed notices of paper drives and helped in the various community activities during the war emergency.

RED CROSS DRIVE

Going, going, gone, one Hershey for 35c. C'mon, the money's going to the Red Cross. Such chatter occurred at various auctions whose purpose was that of reaching the quota for the Red Cross drive sponsored by the sophomores. Other home rooms obtained their total by passing the box; and as a result, the $300 quota was over-subscribed by $26.48.

STAMP CLUB

Stamps from far and wide are eagerly exchanged and auctioned off in the Stamp club meetings. Under the direction of Miss Golden the club meets twice a month for auctions and contests involving stamps as prizes. Closing the year's meetings, the club holds a picnic in June at Lake Park.

JUNIOR CITIZENSHIP CLUB

Functioning under the guidance of Orville Palmer, the Junior Citizenship club is proving a success in its initial year at Shorewood. Designed to organize seventh, eighth, and ninth graders into a service club similar to Hi-Y and Girl Reserves, the Junior Citizenship club has proved its worth by participating in paper drives and undertaking a program to renovate Shorewood's bulletin boards.

WORLD HISTORY CLUB

During fourth hour every Friday morning, world-wide and domestic problems go through the wringer as Shorewood's World History club assemblies. Functioning as a stable organization for the first time this year, the club was organized by Arthur McLean for the benefit of those students who are avid followers of world events.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Shorewood's governing body is a one-house legislature. Home room presidents and committees chairmen convene each Wednesday to act upon measures concerning the general welfare. Although subject to Miss Barry's veto, legislature is passed after a majority decision. In session from September to June, the council, with Doug Bruss as chairman, has contributed much through its suggestions, recommendations and rules.

STUDENT COURT

The Student Court, meeting twice a week, is composed of two seniors and one junior. Cases tried by the court include everything from an exuberant senior sliding down the banister to a teacher using the wrong door. A suitable penalty is usually given, although the first offender is often put on probation.

FINANCIAL STAFF

Familiar faces in the ticket window selling tickets for swimming meets, football and basketball games are Ken Rosenthal, Asher Nichols, and Al Hankin who serve as members of the financial staff. Under the supervision of George Baltus, they secure advertising for the programs and provide publicity for the coming events.

HALL MONITORS

The responsibility for adopting and maintaining the rules and regulations regarding student behavior in the halls is the job of the Hall Monitors organization. Consisting of over one hundred students, this group, sponsored by Miss Linda Barry, was presided over this year by Bill Frank, senior, while Harold Schmidt, sophomore, served as secretary.

BUILDING AND GROUNDS

"Keep off the grass," and "Drop that snowball" are only part of the job of the Building and Grounds committee. Under the direction of Arthur Bidney, they check locks and lockers, supervise fire drills, regulate bicycle parking, and educate students to work together in the maintenance of school property.

EXTRA-CURRICULAR BOARD

The extra-curricular board, composed of three students, keeps membership lists of every organization in the school. At the end of each semester all these organizations send reports of their activities and finances to the board which summarizes them and presents the complete record to the principal. Any new organization submits its constitution to the board for Student Council approval.

OPERETTA

"A New Dawn," a musical drama for the Easter season, was written and directed by Miss House. The religious theme of the operetta, presented by the Mixed Chorus, was emphasized by biblical settings of the disciples and followers of Jesus at the Last Supper, and the inspiring scene at the tomb just before dawn on Easter morn. With the helpful guidance of Miss Mohrdieck, the characters portrayed their parts in an outstanding manner and made a success of the world premiere.

The problems of the little brother who wants his sister to marry so that he may have her room were solved in "Make Room for Rodney."

ONE ACTS

"Some Sunny Morning" presented two elderly people who tried to conceal the fact that they remembered when they had been lovers almost fifty years earlier.

The daughter of a wealthy family in Eighteenth Century England poses as a bar maid so that she may win the man she loves in "She Stoops To Conquer."

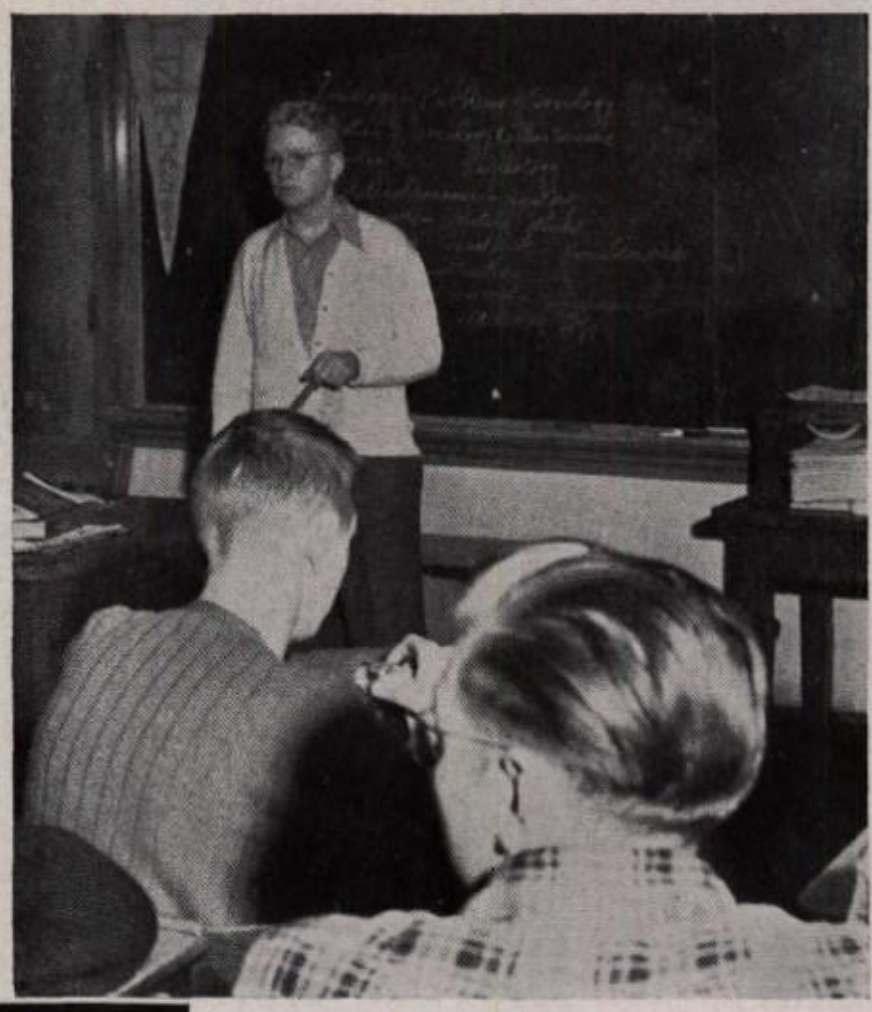
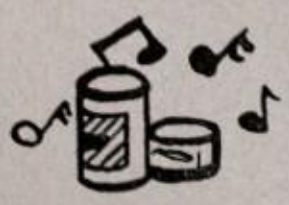
Hi-Y

Among the many activities undertaken by the Hi-Y are the paper drives. In the five collections which were held this year, the Hi-Y received a total of over $800 and distributed it between the Red Cross, USO, and the Community Chest. The proceeds of the annual Hi-Y Penny Drive were given to worthy organizations also. This year the club took an active part in YMCA and National Hi-Y work, sending a delegate to the convention at New York.



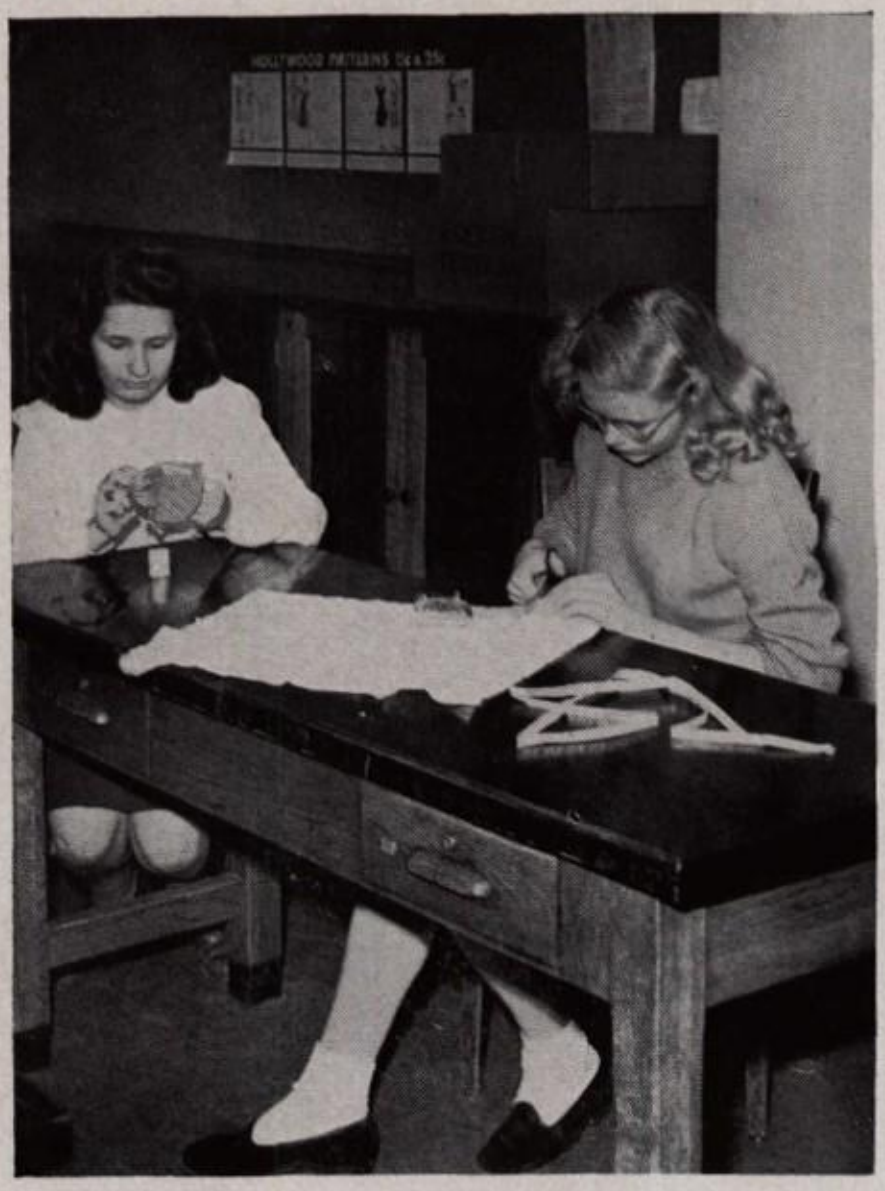
The weekly meeting of the Hi-Y is under the direction of President Herbert Mahler.

The proceeds from the Hi-Y Penny Drive were counted each noon in the lobby by club members.



GIRL RESERVES

Remembering their sandwiches is only one activity of the Girl Reserves. The Lost and Found and the concession stand are but two ways in which the girls, under the leadership of Miss Brock, sponsor, and Betty Risley, president, give service to the school. Holding their Ring Standard meeting at members' houses, the girls have informal discussions about current problems. After the meeting, the girls once again make history by eating their sandwiches.



HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

Under the guidance of Miss Fleming and members of the senior club, Junior Home Economics devoted most its time to the Junior Red Cross. Making Christmas ornaments, tray covers, nut cups, and other articles for wounded soldiers occupied the group until spring, when they began planning for the Mother's Tea. In addition to programs and social affairs, Senior Home Ec. sponsored the Turnabout Dance. Those at the dance carried away decorations and pleasant memories of music and fun.

YOUTH COUNCIL

Organized last year because of a pressing need for somebody to take care of the ever-present problems of our high school students, the Youth Council has won a permanent place for itself in the Shorewood High school program. It is the only group in school which is composed of parents, students, and teachers working together for the betterment of the community. Three student members are elected from each of the junior and senior classes, two from the freshman and sophomore classes, and one from the seventh and eighth grades respectively. One parent is elected for each grade from the various homeroom representatives. The chairmen of the different grade counselors automatically become the teacher members of the council. The Youth Council is only in its second year of existence, but already it has made many worthwhile contributions to the school. Chief among them are the organization and development of the Youth Center, and the inauguration of Family Night at the Shorewood Theater. Both of these projects have met with great success, and it is hoped the Youth Council will continue its good work in the future.

QUILL AND SCROLL

Staff members of the year-book and the school paper, who have done meritorious work on their publications are elected to membership of Quill and Scroll by their advisers and society members. These elections are held in midwinter and at the completion of the year's work. The organization is an international honorary society for high school journalists, and its purpose is to maintain a high standard of journalism in the publications of the school.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

From the junior and senior classes each year, new members of National Honor Society are selected. All candidates are elected after being carefully rated by the other candidates, society members and the faculty. A scholastic average of 2.0 or better is necessary and leadership, character and service are qualities considered in the election. The year's activities include the initiation at an all-school assembly and a reception for both the new and old members of the Society.

Electrical Living

Each year, as you graduates grow older and eventually establish homes of your own, you will discover that more and more folks want "All-Electric" homes. You will owe it to yourself, therefore, to be fully informed on low-cost electricity, adequate wiring and electrical appliances — which make "electrical living" so easily available to all.

When Milwaukee was 7 years young!

In 1853 — when the City of Milwaukee was 7 years young, with a population of about 20,000 — the Farmers' and Millers' Bank opened for business in a small one-room office at 204 East Water Street. From that beginning has grown the First Wisconsin National Bank of today — largest bank in the state and one of the oldest — with 13 convenient offices at your service throughout the city. And today, as in the past, this outstanding bank serves not only as faithful guardian of its depositors' funds, but as an active partner in the continuing progress of the community.
